Declares—St. Louis Visit
Probably Nov. 2.

By Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Herbert Hoover, in New York for an address tonight, announced today that he would speak to St. Louis on a Western trip. Although the visit has not yet been made public, probably will be Nov. 2, according to present plans. The Republican candidate expects to leave Washington on Oct. 30 or Nov. 1, and arrive at Palo Alto, Cal., Nov. 1. Hoover made the announcement this morning at his press conference.

In this hostile territory he took occasion to predict a Republican victory and state that the only thing the party had to fear at this time was over-confidence. He refused to discuss issues this morning, saying that he would take up serious questions tonight in his speech at Madison Square Garden. His attitude gave him an opportunity to evade an embarrassing question. "He was asked by a correspondent whether he agreed with Dr. Work, the Republican National Chairman, that the people were tired of the oil scandals. Hoover's reply was that he would discuss such questions at this time."

The details of the Western trip and the St. Louis address will be arranged after Hoover returns to Washington. Chicago was considered at one time, but St. Louis has been foremost in the discussions since Gov. Smith spoke at Omaha.

"More Zeal Than Ever."

"Never has there been a greater rally in the Republican party in a matter of a century than at this moment," the nominee said. "We have an able organization and more zeal is being shown than ever before."

"How are you withstanding the rigors of the campaign?" was asked.

"I was never in better physical condition in my life," the nominee replied.

"You look it," one of the correspondents said.

Hoover met the newspaper men at the conclusion of a breakfast conference with party leaders, in the course of which he received optimistic reports as to the outcome of the election. He said he was alone in the home state of his Democratic opponent, but also in the Eastern state generally.

During more than an hour with these leaders, the nominee went over plans for speeding up campaign work in New York State and New England. Among those with whom he conferred were Dr. Charles D. Hilles, National Committee chairman; James R. Sheffield, former Ambassador to Mexico; William H. Hill, chairman of the Independent Hoover-Curtis Committee; and Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Eastern Advisory Committee, and Representative John T. Lison, head of the Eastern Speakers' Bureau.

After his talk with the newspaper correspondents, Hoover began receiving delegations of foreign-born voters, to each of which he made a brief talk.

Greeting former associates in the work of post-war relief in Europe, Hoover said: "It is a pleasure to meet my old associates in the great undertaking of 1920 for the relief we carried on amongst 10,000,000 children and 23 different nations in Europe."

"You here represent not only the American organizations which cooperated in that effort, but you represent the nations which were recipients of that relief. It was an undertaking in a time of great difficulty. Our own country was in a state of financial panic. We were not free from the effects of war and the multitude of hardships which ran through all countries."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MOBERLY, Mo., Oct. 22.—United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, Progressive Republican, addressing a Republican rally here this afternoon, denounced attacks made upon Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee for the presidency, by persons representing themselves as farm leaders. His speech follows:

"Herbert Hoover has been widely denounced as the arch enemy of the farmers of the United States. No conclusion was ever based more completely upon falsehood than this. The person most responsible for it is Mr. George N. Peek. In his propaganda Mr. Peek had no regard for the truth, and, of course, he would have no weight except for the fact he succeeded in winning the favor of certain farm leaders and of certain Democratic leaders in Congress, and through these channels was able to poison a considerable portion of the farm mind of the country. He even had his misleading statements and half-truths inserted into the Congressional record. I, therefore, desire to review briefly the actual record of Herbert Hoover in his able, courageous, efficient and successful fight for agriculture.

"His first fight for the farmers of the country was over wheat prices during the war. The allied countries had pooled the buying of cereals into a single head to provide a sole buyer for Great Britain, France and Italy. This pool had decided upon $1.50 a bushel as the price to be paid at Chicago. Herbert Hoover is the one who made America realize that this price would be ruinous to the farmers of the United States and that other prices were inflated. While Congress had passed a law for $2 a bushel minimum for the 1918 crop, no attempt had been made to establish a price for the 1917 supply.

"The Wheat Corporation.

"It was, therefore, at the mercy of the export buyers, and Hoover asked for the organization of the Wheat Corporation to combat this buying combination of the allies. He then asked President Wilson to appoint a board controlled by the farm leaders and the best farm experts for the purpose of determining the counter-price which he should ask on behalf of the farmers of the United States. Upon this board were Charles S. Barrett of the Farmers' Union, L. J. Taber of the Grange, E. D. Funk and W. J. Shorttill of the Farmers' Co-Operative Grain Dealers' Association.

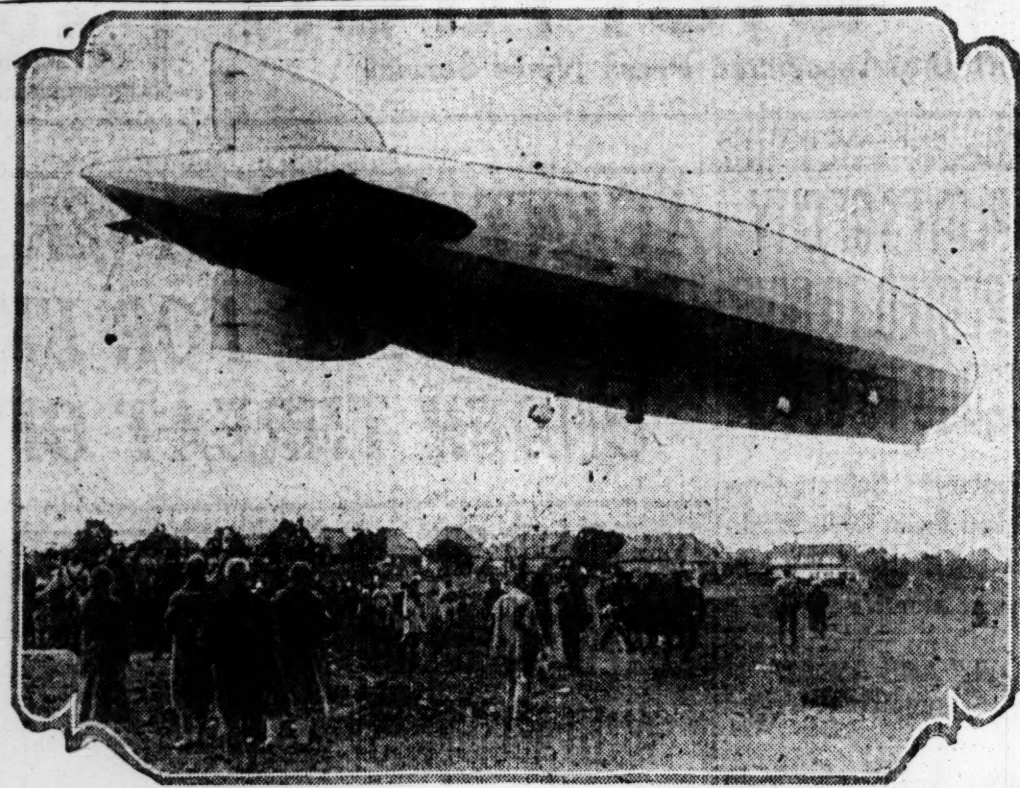

"After due collaboration they unanimously agreed upon $2.20 for No. 1 Northern spring wheat at Chicago as a minimum price for 1917 wheat. This was afterwards raised to $2.25, because of a like rise in freight rates. Mr. Hoover then informed the allied pool that they would be required to pay this minimum price, which was 75 cents greater than the price fixed by the allied pool. In order to make his demand good, Mr. Hoover, in the Wheat Corporation, purchased and held as much as $500,000,000 worth of wheat and he did successfully enforce his demand.

"Mr. Peek next said we made the minimum price, the maximum price, but the actual average sales at Chicago of this grade wheat were, during the life of the Wheat Corporation, at the rate of $2.45 a bushel, or 19 cents above this minimum and 45 cents above the minimum fixed by Congress for 1918 wheat and slightly above the general price level of other commodities. Therefore, instead of holding down the price of wheat, Mr. Hoover held it up with a courage that is unexampled and saved the wheat farmers from disaster.

"Livestock Price Problem.

"Again as head of the Food Administration, Mr. Hoover had to meet the perplexing problem of livestock prices, and again, as he always does, he asked the appointment of an advisory board of the best farm leaders and experts. Upon this committee were Charles S. Barrett of the Farmers' Union, Milo D. Campbell of the Milk Producers, Charles W. Hunt of the Iowa Farm Bureau, J. G. Brown of the Indiana Farm Bureau, Charles W. Hunt was a close friend of H. C. Wallace, who afterwards became Secretary of Agriculture. In fact, they had been schoolmates and roommates in college. They were also in close accord upon economic matters affecting the farmers. Mr. Hunt says they agreed upon nearly everything except one, and that was Herbert Hoover. Wallace had an unreasoning grudge against Hoover and habitually opposed him in nearly everything. Wallace brought to this board the theory for a ratio pricing of hogs to that of corn. Hoover was opposed to this theory, but Wallace, having friends on the board, prevailed. This Advisory Board recommended a price for hogs as what was known as the "13 to 1" ratio, that is, if corn was $1 a bushel hogs were $13 a hundred at Chicago, but Hoover secured a minimum limit at $15.50 a hundred. Mr. Hoover maintained this price for a long time in a manner very satisfactory to the farmers. In fact, it was generally higher than the minimum.

"Corn and Surplus of Hogs.

"It was well known that Argentina had accumulated a great surplus of corn because of the war. Ships were not available and this corn could not be moved into the world market. If an armistice were signed ships would be available and this surplus of corn would reduce the price. Since hogs were tied to corn with a ratio, the price of hogs would likewise be reduced. This caused too many hogs to be dumped into the market and made difficulty in maintaining the minimum price. Mr. Hunt says they had fallen to about $13 a hundred at Logan, Ia., where he lived, and he had 3000 head at the time. They should have been about $14.50 a hundred to maintain the $15.50 minimum at Chicago. Mr. Hoover again saw the danger to the livestock farmers and called a meeting of the Advisory Board and of the packers. The Advisory Board recommended that the minimum price should be raised to $17.50 a hundred. The packers were then called in, and Mr. Hoover submitted to them the proposition of the farmers. They said it could not be done, because the supply was outstripping the demand and the price could not be maintained.

"Mr. Hoover then informed them that the Food Administration would be able to maintain this price, and unless they did maintain it, he would by Saturday night recommend to the President to take over the packing plants and operate them as he was operating the railroads. This brought the result and the price was maintained. At Hoover's suggestion a clause was included in the armistice to raise the German blockade and permit the feeding of the German people.

"Raising of German Blockade.

"The armistice was now signed and the war was over, and although it had been agreed that the German blockade should be raised, in fact it was not raised. Again, it was Herbert Hoover who at once saw trouble for the American farmers in denying them the German market, and it was Herbert Hoover, the humanitarian, who wanted at the same time to feed the starving women and children of Germany. Hoover took a boat for France, but found the French obdurate. Added to his difficulties was the fact that the British were canceling their orders for farm products. On Feb. 1, 1919, he wrote to President Wilson:

"Our farmers and merchants are in extreme jeopardy from the surplus of food which the British now repudiate as to purchase and in which they obstruct a wider freedom of market. The French obstruct the notion of neutrals trading with Germany, although that would alleviate both the financial problem and the distress."

"Again on Feb. 4, he wrote the President:

"There is no right in the law of God or man that we should longer continue to starve Europe now that we have a surplus of food.

"By obstruction of every financial measure we can propose to the feeding of Germany, they have already defeated every step so far for getting them food, which we have been promising for three months."

"Mr. Hoover was not on making these heartrending appeals for the starving Germans and for the American farmer, but he supported them with the courage of desperation. He continued to buy the surplus of farm products in the Food Administration and even to load it on ships which he started for Europe without knowing whether they would ever have even a landing place; and he maintained the farm prices as the farmers had fixed them and as he had promised to do.

"While this was going on, Mr.

George N. Peek, on Feb. 3, 1919, at a meeting in the United States Treasury, got himself appointed as Chairman of the Industrial Board in the Department of Commerce, under Secretary Redfield, and on Feb. 13 this board issued a statement that its avowed purpose was to reduce the prices of food, which of necessity meant farm products. Thus Mr. George N. Peek, himself headed the first movement to deflate the farmers of the United States after the war was over, at the very time that Mr. Hoover, as Food Administrator, was making the most gallant and desperate fight in economic history to protect them. He stabbed Hoover in the back and the American farmer at the same time. He continued his operations for two months and 19 days, when he was discharged and his board discontinued. The explanation of this is given in the most vivid language by Senator Glass, then Secretary of the Treasury. In a statement of May 12, 1919, Senator Glass said:

"There is scarcely one accurate assertion or sane deduction in all of Mr. Peek's intemperate screed, and to me it is now perfectly clear why there has been a sad ending of the movement which had its initial meeting in the Treasury and which had for its purpose the revival of industrial activity through agents and by methods that were not contrary to the statutes nor obnoxious in the elementary principles of economics. Mr. Peek knows perfectly well that I have never in any way or at any time suggested such action as that taken by the Industrial Board; hence his reference to me on this point perverts the actual truth. Indeed, it is not inexact to say that Mr. Peek has persistently and consistently practiced deception in nearly every public statement he has made."

PLANS FOR VISIT OF ZEPPELIN TO ST. LOUIS IN DOUBT

hurst, where the Graf Zeppelin is now berthed.

It is understood that whatever arrangements are finally made, the plans will be changed in the event of inclement weather. High winds particularly, would be likely to influence Dr. Eckener to decide to stay aloft, even if he had previously announced that he would land at Scott Field.

The itinerary already announced includes a flight over Pittsburgh, Pa.; Columbus, O.; Cincinnati, O.; Indianapolis, Ind.; St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Wis.; Detroit, Mich.; Cleveland, O.; Akron, O.; Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Syracuse, Albany and New York City.

Trans-Atlantic Zeppelin Service Proposed by Eckener.

AKRON, O., Oct. 22.—Dr. Hugo Eckener was the guest yesterday of Paul W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation. He and his party went from Akron to Chicago by train.

Organization of a trans-Atlantic Zeppelin service, operating on a four-day schedule, was proposed yesterday by Eckener to Litchfield.

With an outlay of approximately $15,000,000 for ships and ports, Eckener requested Litchfield to join his concern, the Zeppelin Corporation of Friedrichshafen, Germany, in constructing four ships.

two of which would be built at Friedrichshafen and two by the Goodyear Corporation. He said he felt sure that other financiers whom he did not name could be induced to take part in the venture.

Dirigibles leaving the American and European ports at four-day intervals could give efficient and profitable service, Eckener said.

Zeppelin Crew Pass Through Chicago Streets in Rain.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—In a driving downpour of rain Dr. Hugo Eckener and his crew of the Graf Zeppelin started out at noon today to receive the honors of Chicago as bestow on the trans-Atlantic airman.

From the Union League Club, Commander Eckener and his companions were driven in the storm to the City Hall, where they were received by Mayor Thompson and the City Council.

Police were forced to clear a way through the corridors and to keep the more enthusiastic from bursting into the Mayor's office.

Immediately afterward the members of the party went to the Bismarck Hotel, where they were guests of the Mayor at luncheon and where Eckener announced that the big dirigible in which he and his companions crossed the Atlantic would fly over Chicago next Friday.

Tonight the Zeppelin crew will attend a public banquet at the Stevens Hotel and will then depart by train for Lakehurst, N. J.

The martial music of two nations greeted Dr. Eckener and his party as they arrived in Chicago last night. They were taken to a reception in the city hall, where they were met by a band playing "Victory Song" of Prussia. German societies sang songs. There was a program at the Chicago German Theater.

Lieutenant-Colonel Paegelow One of Three Army Officers on Flight.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Three Army officers will be aboard the dirigible Graf Zeppelin during its flight through the Middle West as guests of Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the craft. The War Department today ordered the following officers to the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst to make the trip: Lieutenant-Colonel John A. Paegelow of the Army Air Corps, Scott Field, Ill.; Maj. Ruth B. Lincoln of the General Staff, Washington, D. C.; and Lieut. Frank M. McKee of the Air Corps, Norton Field, Columbus, O.

At the Navy Department it was announced that three naval officers also had been invited to make the trip on the Zeppelin. Two of them are Assistant Secretaries of the Navy Edward P. Warner, in charge aeronautics, and Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics. The third is yet to be selected.

Two of the Department of Commerce representatives on the trip will be William P. MacCracken Jr., assistant secretary for aeronautics, and H. H. Blee, of the aeronautics division. It is probable that Clarence M. Young, director of the aeronautics division, also will go.

MRS. HOOVER GUEST OF ENGINEERS' WIVES

Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Edison
Among Hostesses at New York Breakfast.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—With a breakfast with 300 engineers' wives, Mrs. Herbert Hoover began a day in New York that was almost as crowded as her husband's and which meant what she described as "a real thrill" for her.

Mrs. Thomas Edison, Mrs. Henry Ford and Mrs. Vernon Kellogg were among the women who greeted her at the "chrysanthemum breakfast" of the women's branch of the Engineers' National Committee and reported to her the activities of the national Hoover campaign being waged by women who, in the words of Mrs. C. K. MacFadden of their executive committee, "never dabbled in politics before."

"I felt I was in the midst of old friends," Mrs. Hoover told them, responding to the introductions of Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, their president, "as I looked around and saw here a woman I had breakfasted with in China, and there another I had met in Australia. I always get such a real thrill when we can be together."

Gift From Hoover Society.

"I wish I were as wise as the owl," she added, accepting for her husband and herself a gift of two small enamel pins in the shape of the society's symbolic owl, "so that I could condense into three words all I feel, but being able to talk as much as I want at home. I am not used to condensing."

"There is a touch of homesickness about this breakfast for me," she concluded, indicating a large portrait of her husband with his big police dog. "Tut always breakfasts with us."

Mrs. Edison, welcoming Mrs. Hoover as one "of the finest of engineers' wives," declared that "this representative gathering of intelligent women from every State in the country shows that morally the campaign is in safe hands."

Mrs. Ford smilingly hoped "that all of you will keep on working as you have been working, to the very last."

Meeting Applauds Hoover.

State chairmen from Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and the District of Columbia reported progress of their campaigns. Before they concluded the candidate himself appeared unexpectedly in the doorway, winning a burst of applause from the women. One of the owl pins was presented to him with the explanation by Mrs. MacFadden that the owl was symbolic of himself as "a friend of the farmer, a good fisherman, and known in every part of the world."

Mrs. Cabot Stevens of Washington, D. C., wife of the organizing secretary of the Men's Engineers' Committee, presented to Mrs. Hoover the following telegram received from Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond of Washington:

"The women's organizations throughout the country to elect Hoover are rendering most valuable service and are showing astonishing executive ability. Their appreciation of the importance of good government is one of the most reassuring facts of this campaign."

A letter signed by Mrs. Edison and Mrs. Ford, 10,000 copies of which will be circulated to women in the South, also was distributed at the breakfast. In it they appealed for votes for Hoover as "the world's greatest engineer."

Mrs. Hoover's program for the rest of the day included attendance with her husband at the luncheon of Republican State leaders, and a reception at the Women's National Republican Club.

BRITISH MONOPOLY NICKEL 'A PEACE MOVER'

Canadian Control Gained in Stock Exchange Campaign, Says Toronto Paper.

By the Associated Press.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 22.—Toronto Mail and Empire publishes the following:

"Canadian control of International Nickel gained by a spectacular battle on the Stock Exchange of Toronto. Montreal and New York is but a part of General Bain's policy to insure world peace by dominating the source of supply of one of the essential elements of war. While the public watched the sensational rise of Nickel on more back of it all was a British fight for peace, and results will be world wide."

"The skirmish in the world's drama of peace was fought out on the money markets. It has been under way for several months, and the public saw of it was the gradual rise of Nickel and its week's fireworks. The general idea which has gained credence in New York is that it all began many years ago, when the British Canadian Commission made its report to the British Government. Lord Mond (Lord Melchett) was then chairman of the commission. The points of marked significance in the British Empire, and to the peace of the world were indicated by the commission."

"One was that, during the Great War, Canadian Nickel went to the United States and prior to the event of the States in the war it had gone freely made at the time it did reach enemy territory. The second discovery was that, in the event of future wars, the British Empire would be in a bad way as far as copper was concerned."

"So the wheels began to turn. British interests found a source of copper in the form of a controlled Noranda. Then Canadian interests gained control of International Nickel, wresting it from the States through market plays. The two big moves which have followed the finding of the British Chemical Commission. The leading Canadians credited with controlling International Nickel are Sir Herbert Holt, John W. McConeil and James A. Richardson."

HOOVER INVADES
NEW YORK, WITH ADDRESS TONIGHT

history which shows the fine spirit of our people more than the enormous support contributed in times of difficulty to aid not only friend, but former foe. I know of no finer proof than the fact that all races when on American soil come toward the rest of the world, whether that attitude be in great charity or in international relations.

"Your coming here revives fine memories to all of us. I appreciate this tribute from you, and I doubly appreciate the fact that a friendship established so many years ago in a common cause should continue unabated to this day."

All his field captains there. Edgar Richard, vice chairman of the European Relief Council under Hoover, was spokesman for the delegation. He said that for the first time Hoover had before him all his field captains in relief work and "the representatives of the tens of millions of people who saved from starvation in the post-war period of distress."

"The composition of this group assembled before you could not more clearly demonstrate," Richard said, "the governing principle of all your relief operations—that the distribution should be extended without prejudice as to race or creed."

In an address at a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, attended by several hundred national and new York State party leaders, Hoover renewed his expression of confidence in the election result, saying:

"I have only one reservation on the outcome of this election and that is that we may relax our efforts."

The nominee said that not in many years had there been "such a profound movement as there has been in this campaign."

He added that the unprecedented registration an "movement of the independent voters to our standard is evidence that the people are awake to the necessity of pressing into action the principles for which we stand."

For Hoover Election.

Hoover told the party leaders their responsibility was "to see that every ballot is honestly cast and that the election is honestly conducted."

Congratulations the New York State organization on its "growth and strength," the nominee said: "There lies before us the opportunity to restore Republican government in the State of New York."

He added that Republican control of the "Empire State" was important in maintaining supremacy of his party in the nation.

Reiterating his appeal for stronger Republican representation in Congress, Hoover said this was necessary if "a Republican President is to consummate the will of the American people."

"It is a great satisfaction that you have named Attorney-General Ottinger and Ambassador Houghton as representing the leadership of your State," he added. "We have need in the Senate for men of the experience of Ambassador Houghton, and there is need in the governorship of New York for Attorney-General Ottinger."

As Hoover was presented to his fellow workers in the Republican cause by H. Edmund Machold, chairman of the New York State Republican Committee, he was given an ovation which continued until Machold pounded vigorously for order.

Besides the nominee, other speakers at the luncheon were Vice-President Dawes, Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Eastern Advisory Committee, and Louis R. Marshall of New York City.

"An Old Fashioned Progressive." Vice-President Dawes said he agreed with Gov. Alfred E. Smith that the cure for democracy was more democracy and that this would be demonstrated by the voters next month when, he predicted, they would elect "an old fashioned progressive Republican."

Senator Moses declared that the drift in the campaign was towards the Republican party and that this drift could not be stemmed.

"This country intends to vote for order."

Besides the nominee, other speakers at the luncheon were Vice-President Dawes, Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Eastern Advisory Committee, and Louis R. Marshall of New York City.

"An Old Fashioned Progressive." Vice-President Dawes said he agreed with Gov. Alfred E. Smith that the cure for democracy was more democracy and that this would be demonstrated by the voters next month when, he predicted, they would elect "an old fashioned progressive Republican."

Senator Moses declared that the drift in the campaign was towards the Republican party and that this drift could not be stemmed.

ON TRIAL FOR KILLING DRUGGIST IN HOLDUP

Henry St. John Confessed
Murder of F. W. Murphy,
Then Repudiated Statement.

Henry St. John, who has served in the reformatory of three states, went on trial before a jury in Circuit Judge Hall's Court today, charged with the murder of Frank W. Murphy, druggist, in a holdup at his store, 349 Franklin avenue, May 2.

Arrested the day after the killing, St. John admitted shooting Murphy in a holdup and insisted he wanted to hang for the murder. Later he repudiated the confession because, so he said, the Circuit Attorney would not guarantee a death sentence.

HOOVER ASKED TO DEFINE VIEWS ON INLAND WATERWAYS

Chairman of Great Lakes-Hudson Association Asks for Nominee's Attitude in Letter.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Col. Edward C. Carrington, chairman of the Great Lakes-Hudson Association, formed to promote the building of an all-American canal from the Great Lakes to tidewater, has made public a letter to Herbert Hoover asking the Republican nominee for a statement of his views on the construction of national waterways.

The letter said Gov. Smith has "stated his present position as that of being willing to restudy the question and leave the ultimate decision to Congress." The letter quoted from correspondence between this country and Canada to show that the dominion is "offering determined opposition to construction of the proposed St. Lawrence waterway," and continues: "No one is credited with more precise information in reference to the matters to which you give public expression than yourself. We think the people of New Jersey and New York have every reason to invite you to make a declaration in respect to your present attitude as to waterways that will afford an outlet to the 40,000,000 land-locked people of the Midwest, giving them the benefit of an all-water bill of lading."

ROAD BOND CAMPAIGN IN NORTHERN MISSOURI

A. A. Buford and Roy S. Rauschkolb to Speak at the Larger Towns.

A speaking campaign in Northern Missouri in support of the $75,000,000 State road bond issue, proposition No. 3 on the November constitutional ballot, will be begun tomorrow and continued until just before the election by Anthony A. Buford, secretary of the Citizens' Road Bond Committee, and Roy S. Rauschkolb, manager of the development bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

Local groups are arranging meetings to be addressed by the St. Louisans, who will travel by motor. They will speak at Moberly tomorrow, Keytesville and Marshall, Wednesday; Lexington and Richmond, Thursday; Excelsior Springs, Friday; Carrollton, Saturday; Cameron and Savannah, next Monday; Maryville and Bethany, Oct. 30; Unionville and Memphis, Oct. 31; Canton and Bowling Green, Nov. 1, and Troy, Nov. 2.

Reports reaching the Citizens' Road Bond Committee are that sentiment in Northwestern Missouri has been changing in favor of the bonds. The Northwest Missouri Chamber of Commerce, meeting at St. Joseph, has rescinded a resolution of last January against the $120,000,000 bond issue then proposed and has endorsed the present proposal. The Federated Women's Clubs at Jansport, representing 19 counties, and the Macon Council of the United Commercial Travelers also have endorsed the bonds.

In St. Louis recent endorsements have been by the Merchant Tailors' Association and Carrie Ware Chapter of the W. C. T. U., while in the southwestern part of the state the Jasper County and Granby Chambers of Commerce and the Neosho Ad Club have approved the proposition. Mayor Patterson of Joplin has issued a proclamation for a general cessation of work for two hours on election day for the express purpose of votes for the bond issue.

BORAH SPEAKS IN DALLAS TONIGHT; REPLIES TO RASKOB

Says G. O. P. and Democrats Agree on Prohibition and Tammany Differs.

By the Associated Press.
DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 22.—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho today came to Democratic Texas to deliver a speech here tonight which was regarded by Republican leaders as one of the most important thrusts of the campaign to turn the State to Hoover.

The address is the sixth of the campaign trip the Senator has been making through the South and border states in behalf of the Republican presidential nominee. It will be broadcast over a regional radio hookup. Senator Borah in a conference with newspaper men replied to the charge of John J. Raskob, Democratic National Chairman, that the Republican party had become the "prohibition party" by saying "the Republicans and Democrats agree on prohibition, but the Republicans do not agree with Raskob and Tammany Hall on the question." "Both parties are pledged to uphold the Constitution," he added, "and Raskob and Gov. Smith made it an issue, not the Democratic party."

The Senator denied a declaration by Gov. Moody of Texas, that he had "bitterly opposed" Woodrow Wilson. Borah said that he had disagreed with President Wilson on the League of Nations, but you can search in vain my record to find any personal attack on him."

MAINE PILOT WINS TROPHY FOR SAFE FLYING RECORD

Naval Lieut. Dyer, 1251 Hours in Air in Year to Cross U. S. to Receive Award.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Herbert Schiff memorial trophy for safe flying has been awarded to Lieut. James E. Dyer of Rumford, Me., naval air pilot, who has a record of 1251 hours in the air for the fiscal year 1927-28.

Dyer who is on duty at the naval air station at San Diego, Cal., was ordered today by the Navy Department to fly across the continent to receive the award from President Coolidge at the White House, Dec. 16.

Lieut. Dyer is the fourth winner of this trophy which is awarded annually to the naval aviator who has flown the greatest number of hours without accident to personnel or craft.

Lieut. Dyer flew 336 hours longer than did Lieut. Arthur Gay, who won the trophy in 1927 and exceeded the greatest number of flying hours of any previous winner of the trophy.

In future the trophy will be awarded to the commander of the squadron or unit which makes the best record for safety in flying during the year.

ASSOCIATED PRESS SESSION State Organization Re-elects Old Officers.

St. Louis Western Frontier
of the Southland

The Nation's "shopping center" might well be the characterization given metropolitan St. Louis. With more than 4,000 industries producing approximately $1,300,000,000 in manufactured commodities annually, and numerous distributing and jobbing houses located in the district, "Greater St. Louis" is one of the foremost commercial and industrial centers in the country.

More than 218 diversified lines of products, running virtually the whole gamut of industrial productivity, are being produced in the district, which comprises generally the territory within a radius of approximately 50 miles around the City of St. Louis.

With twenty-eight railroads radiating to all sections of the country, and an exemplary package-car system, the city is "twenty-four hours from anywhere" in the country.

In a cultural way, St. Louis has made equally wise provision. The magnificent Municipal Opera, located in vast and expansive Forest Park, one of the largest parks west of the Mississippi, is the largest municipally owned outdoor theatre in the world. Jefferson Memorial is the home of the City's historical archives, and the display place for the famous collection of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, famous Atlantic flier.

What the "OLD RELIABLE" means to St. LOUIS.

St. Louis is the sixth city in size in the United States, the Northwestern terminus of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, and the most populous city on its rails. It is one of the largest primary grain markets in the United States, as well as one of the largest live-stock markets.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has an average of 400 employees in the St. Louis terminal district with an annual payroll in excess of $750,000.00. It operates eight scheduled passenger trains and fourteen freight trains into and out of St. Louis daily, with numerous extra sections as needed. It is the only strictly Southwestern line having its own station in St. Louis for the receipt and delivery of freight, handling cotton goods, lumber, and other raw materials produced in the South, and finished products moving from St. Louis.

ILLINOIS CAMPAIGNS
CENTER IN CHICAGO

Republicans and Democrats
Prepare for Strenuous Two-Weeks of Political Activities

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The battleground of the State the next two weeks, Cook County, should be well trod by Nov. 6, for both Republicans and Democrats have lined up a formidable array of meetings. In addition to appearances by the State candidates, Charles Evans Hughes, former Supreme Court Justice and Secretary of State under President Harding, will address the Republican cause with an address Wednesday night.

The Democrats, who might feel they could take things somewhat easier after the activity of their nominee for Governor, Floyd E. Thompson, and the rest of his ticket—to say nothing of the visits of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Mayor James J. Walker of New York, and Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland—will have the assistance of Magnus Johnson of Minnesota and Rabbi Stephen Wise of New York City. The following week, Senator James A. Reed is to favor the city with one of his few campaign speeches.

The Democratic presidential nominee, after sweeping across the State and spending two and a half days in Chicago, left for New York declaring his reception in Illinois the best he had received. Republicans will start a series of noon-day meetings in downtown Chicago today, the first to be addressed by James W. Good, Western campaign manager for Herbert Hoover, and by Senator Charles S. Deneen, as well as by Louis L. Emerson, nominee for Governor, and other State candidates.

Thompson lost no time in opening up again in Cook County, and yesterday made two addresses, with others scheduled until Thursday. Thursday in Chicago and suburbs. He is to leave Friday for two speeches at Elgin and Rockford.

Following Gov. Smith's visit, the Chicago Defender, a Negro newspaper with a circulation of 160,000, announced its support of the candidacy of the Democratic presidential nominee, declaring "we want justice, and 50 years' support of the Republican party does not assure us of this justice."

The editorial declared $250,000,000 had been spent under Republican administration in enforcing the prohibition law, but "not a dollar to enforce the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments," relating to Negro suffrage. David E. Shanahan, manager of the Republican State campaign, declared it would be a Republican landslide in Illinois. "Hoover and Republican ticket will win by a plurality of more than 500,000," he said, "and we will carry the down-State counties by the usual Republican pluralities. Several counties which are normally Democratic will go for Hoover and Emerson in November."

A statement from Thomas F. Donovan, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, was also forthcoming. "I have heretofore expressed myself as to the political situation down-State," he said, "Without reiteration, I merely wish to observe that owing to the depressing farm situation in Illinois there is a remarkable trend of support to Gov. Smith in the agricultural sections."

"I have refrained from expressing any opinion as to the situation in Cook County. After the wonderful demonstration Gov. Smith received while in Chicago, I have no hesitancy in affirming the estimate heretofore made by men in both parties that Gov. Smith will carry Cook County by at least 200,000 plurality."

FREEDOM OF LONDON GIVEN
ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

Historic Honor is Bestowed on the Eve of His Retirement.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 22.—The city fathers at Guildhall honored the Archbishop of Canterbury today on the eve of his retirement by presenting him with the freedom of the City of London. The ceremony was performed with all the ancient usage before a brilliant gathering of guests, including members of the Cabinet and the heads of all religious denominations.

The City Chamberlain, Sir Adrian Pollock, in making the presentation, referred to the aged prelate's long and distinguished career, during which he became the trusted friend and adviser of three sovereigns and the first prime minister in English history to resign his great office in favor of a younger man. This, he said, was an act of self-sacrifice entirely characteristic with the Archbishop's life.

NEGRO KILLS MINE PICKET

By the Associated Press.
SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 22.—John Parker, Negro, said by police to have confessed shooting to death Steve Papinchak, a mine union picket at the Diamond Mine here this morning, was taken into custody this afternoon.

A strike has been in progress at the mine for several days. When police dispersed a group of strikers at the mine entrance this morning they found Papinchak lying in a nearby field dead from a bullet wound. He had been doing picket duty since the strike. At police headquarters Parker readily confessed to the shooting, police said. He said he had been pushed around and generally abused by the union pickets when he started to work and drew his revolver and fired.

WITNESS IN VOTE FRAUD
CHICAGO MISSING

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The unexpected disappearance of a State-contested director of the Chicago political-criminal investigation today. George Reind, a primary day polls watcher, was missing. It was announced by David Stansbury, a special assistant Attorney-General. Stansbury is in charge of the prosecution of 18 aids of Morris Eller, Twentieth Ward Republican leader.

Reind, employed during the April primaries by Attorney-General Carlstrom, had volunteered to testify regarding election frauds. Stansbury said. Mrs. Reind, who said her husband was out of town on business, was summoned before the special grand jury today.

Reind was kidnapped at the polls on primary day. Members of the Eller faction are on trial charged with complicity in primary day terrorism and vote frauds.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN

Held at Congregational Din-

byterian Church will hold a reminiscence meeting Wednesday night, with a congregational dinner
in the church parlors at Westminster place and Taylor avenue. This,
and a reception by the church
deaconesses Friday night, will conclude the observance of the church's ninetieth anniversary.The Rev. Dr. John W. MacIvor, pastor, in his sermon yesterday on "Landmarks," dwelt upon the history of the congregation, and told of the 50 years' pastorate of the Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Nicolls, of whom he spoke as "the incarnation and embodiment of the spirit of this church.""Second Church," the pastor said, "is the mother and grandmother of other churches. Central Church was founded from her ranks in 1844. Westminster Church two years later. Subsequent colonies were Park Avenue,
First German, Walnut Street,
which is now Memorial; still later, Carondelet and Kirkwood, though not our colonies, were built mainly from our members. In 1867 was established the South Presbyterian, in 1868 Grace Church, in 1885 McCausland Avenue, and still later Lee Avenue and other churches."Second Church has contributed millions of dollars, more than half of which was given to work outside our own church. Its work in Greeley Church and other centers of religious and social activities has helped thousands of people.""This has been a great church.
We want its greatness to continue.
Two things are necessary, first,
an educational building where the work of the church can be carried on, and youth trained for leadership. Immediately this church must take steps to erect an educational and recreational building suitable to the needs of this great building and commensurate with the challenge of our times. Secondly, we need an endowment. A system has been worked out by a committee by which money can be given to the church for endowment or left in wills. Some members have already responded. When you are among the 'cloud of witnesses' looking down upon our work, it will be a satisfaction to know that you are still identified with a great historic church like this."SUPREME COURT REFUSESTO REVIEW HOG FEEDING ROW

by the United States Supreme Court, it was announced today.Harold E. Engemoen sought to in an effort to retain $550,000 in Government bonds which Jackson Barnett, a 75-year-old Creek In-the bonds to the society and made

WITH GOV. SMITH ON TARIFFSays Panic of 1893 Was Due to Uncasiness About Democratic Legislation in This Field.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Congressman Burton of Ohio, in a statement made public by the Republican National Committee yesterday, took issue with the statement attributed to Gov. Smith that the last two Democratic tariff revisions did not result disastrously.
"Gov. Smith maintains that the panic of 1893 was a heritage from the administration of Benjamin Harrison which terminated March 4 of that year," Burton said. "In this, he is clearly in error. On Dec. 31, 1892, a short time before the close of Harrison's administration, R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Review of Trade, an acknowledged authority, said: 'The most prosperous year ever known in business closed today with strongly favorable indications for the future.'"Burton declared that the panic of 1893 was due to apprehension of what the Democrats would do in tariff legislation. He said that only the coming of the war in 1914
kept the results of the Underwood tariff bill from being disastrous.
He asserted that experience in the past had shown that Gov. Smith's suggestion for a tariff commission of five was impractical. "No Congress would accept the findings of any such board," he asserted. "This has been the universal experience
in the treatment of recommendations by every commission or advisory body."POLICE TO INVESTIGATE DEATH

SCIENCE ABOUT TO OVERCOME CANCER, DR. MAYO DECLARES
Co-ordination of All Research in Chicago Institute Announced by Noted Surgeon.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—As a last word to the 3000 physicians and health experts attending the convention of the American Public Health Association, Dr. Charles Mayo, noted surgeon, said: "Medical science is on the threshold of winning its greatest battle—that against cancer. Wonderful strides have been made by research workers."

NIGHT COUGHS THOXINE
Positively stopped almost instantly with one swallow of

"Some have experimented with electrical current in treating cancer developed in animals, mainly mice. Others have been using radium and X-ray. Still others have been testing dietary effects with some success. I believe we have discovered an antidote or cure." "Science has learned a lot about cancer in the last few years, but most of this knowledge has been in the realm of the laboratory rather than in practical treatment. The time has now come to co-ordinate all experimental threads woven by individuals so they may be blended into actual treatments for cancer-stricken human beings. It is for that purpose we are planning to establish a great cancer research institute in Chicago. We hope in this institute to bring together all the knowledge about cancer gleaned in laboratories and to apply that knowledge to patients suffering from cancer." "In this way we shall be able to study the effects of the treatments and determine which are most effective. Surgeons would work side by side with biologists, pathologists and other scientists."

POINCARÉ LIKELY TO URGE EARLY ACTION ON DEBT

Revision of Dawes Plan and of German Reparations Make Settlement With U. S. Necessary.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The Mellon-Berenger accord for settlement of France's war debt to the United States will be submitted to the French Parliament early in its next session and Premier Poincaré will press for prompt ratification of the agreement, it is believed in political circles here.

There has been no official confirmation of this; but good reasons for such action by the Premier are obvious. Revision of the Dawes plan, favored by both Great Britain and France as a preliminary to final settlement of the reparations problem, cannot be accomplished before ratification of the Franco-American arrangement, the conditions of which France is already executing punctually.

Until that accord has been ratified Washington would not co-operate in floating German bonds, the marketing of which is an essential part of Europe's new plan of final fixing of Germany's debt.

The American attitude that war debts and reparations must be treated as separate has frequently been expressed by the Coolidge administration. The recent conversation between S. Parker Gilbert Jr., Premier Poincaré and Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, were conducted on the assumption that the United States would not recede from this position, although the European nations may continue to treat the reparations and war debt problems as an interdependent whole.

It is pointed out here that ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement would automatically relieve France of the necessity of repaying the United States $400,000,000 next August for American war supplies. Under the terms of the Mellon-Berenger plan, this obligation would be absorbed by the payments to be spread over many years.

Premier Poincaré, it is pointed out, will not overlook this argument in urging ratification of the Mellon-Berenger accord, and will emphasize the fact that such consolidation of the $400,000,000 obligation would reduce the interest on that sum from 5 to 2 per cent.

Debt Question to Be Eliminated From Reparations Discussions.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 22.—Premier Poincaré and Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, it was learned authoritatively today, have agreed that in the coming discussions of reparations the question of French and other European debts owed to the United States shall not be discussed.

They also are agreed that the best course in preparing for a revision of German reparations payments is to mention no capital sums nor terms of years within which the payments shall be made. In regard to sums and terms of years, Hermann Mueller and Gustav Stresemann, respectively Chancellor and Foreign Minister of Germany, hold views identical to those of Poincaré. They believe it is useless to talk about how much Germany can pay and when, thus confusing and embarrassing the special committee to which revision will be referred.

The Allied Governments concerned are themselves not quite sure as to what sums they can expect and the German Government has not formulated any proposals. The only pre-occupation of the Governments at present is to form a committee to draw up general terms of reference.

In the backgrounds of plans for reparations' revision is the probability that the German Government's scheduled payments will carry with them the stipulation that Germany may discount the amounts due many years hence by bonds or other arrangements. This same idea also embraces the possibility of the United States and England's being willing to discount payments due 50 or 60 years from now by taking in payment German bonds guaranteed by France, Great Britain, Italy, and Belgium, as well as Germany. This would be similar to a debtor's passing over promissory notes with his own indorsement by two signatures instead of one.

ANGLO-FRENCH SECRET NAVAL PACT EXPECTED TO BE DENIED

"White Paper" Will Be Issued, Showing How Impasse Was Reached on Disarmament.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The "white paper" which will be issued tonight for publication tomorrow regarding the Anglo-French naval proposals will, it is understood in official circles, show how an impasse was reached with respect to naval and military disarmament, owing mainly to a divergence of views between the British and French Governments on questions of fundamental principles.

The paper will disclose how, with the full knowledge and approval of the preparatory commission, discussions between experts and between the Governments and groups of Governments were pursued. It will be made clear from the internal evidence of the correspondence between Great Britain and France, it is declared, that the suggestion of the conclusion of a political understanding or of a secret agreement between the countries is without foundation.

By the Associated Press. TOKYO, Oct. 22.—The Japanese Government today published its note of last September replying to the British note outlining the terms of the Anglo-French naval agreement. In the note Japan expressed "sincere concurrence" in the principles of the agreement but urged reconsideration of the clauses dealing with the limitation of 10,000-ton cruisers and large submarines, since Japan thought it was impossible to set for these types of craft inflexible limits which would satisfy all nations.

NINE KILLED IN TWO CHICAGO GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENTS

Six in One Family Die When Train Hits Auto; Parents and Child Victims of Other Crash.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Six persons, the grandparents, mother, and children of a family, were killed yesterday when their automobile was hit in the Chicago & Alton yards by a gas-electric train.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hook, 71 and 63 years old, respectively; their daughters, Mrs. Harry Erickson and Mrs. Erickson's three children, Ronald, 14, Vivian, 12, and Richard, 2. Harry Erickson, father of the children and driver of the automobile, was seriously injured and is in a Jacksonville hospital. All seven were thrown out of the automobile.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A Chicago & Eastern Illinois freight train killed a family of three yesterday in a grade crossing accident at Chicago Heights. The dead are Gerald M. Stapleton, 27 years old, his wife, 33, and their 6-year-old daughter, Geraldine. Their automobile was demolished.

DRIVER KILLED IN AUTO RACE

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 22.—One man was killed and another injured yesterday when their racing automobiles crashed through the fence at the Coney Island Speedway here during the 100-mile race. Earl Calvin, 33 years old of Indianapolis, one of 22 entrants, went through the barrier and crashed when the steering gear of his machine locked. He was rushed to a hospital where he died.

At Tusculum, 21, of Detroit, crashed through the fence earlier in the race and his machine caught fire. He was burned and bruised, but hospital attendants said his condition was not serious.

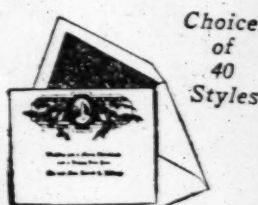

Killed on Way to Wife's Bedside

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 22.—Hurry here to the bedside of his wife, who is near death in a hospital and to his son, who is in the Greene County jail on charges of robbery, James Parker, 70 years old, of Robinson, Ill., was killed last night when his automobile was struck by a Frisco train. Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1928, by the Post-Dispatch
Publishing Co., the New York World and Post-Dispatch.)
GENEVA, Oct. 22.—After years of delay the League of Nations is on the eve of obtaining its own palace. Overcoming the last obstacle which would have involved the dis-possessing of an old world from the home of her childhood, the Assembly Committee and the Swiss Government, in conjunction with various architects, engineers and Swiss officials, have finally agreed on Park Ariana as a suitable site. In a short time the foundation
work of the new League Assembly Hall and Secretariat will be under way.

As years passed it seemed that the League would never be able to move from the antiquated hotel, which lodges its secretariat, or the barnlike Salle de la Reformation, where the Assembly has met for the last nine years. With political and technical questions disposed of,
the League encountered an unexpected obstacle. Part of the lakeside property needed to complete the site previously obtained belonged to Mrs. Alix Barton, a granddaughter of Lord Peel once British Premier, and widow of a former British Consul and great benefactor of Geneva. It was her husband who gave to Geneva the Jardin Anglais, a park in the center of the city. He also gave the city its largest concert building, Victoria Hall.

Benefactor of the League.
Mrs. Barton herself has been one of the greatest local benefactors of the League. She has made a will leaving all her property to the League and has already given valuable land to the city in order that the approaches to the Labor office and proposed League site could be enlarged.

method of conducting campaigns
hereof, where there has been no definite subjects before the public but all this general talk.

The Republican party, he said,
talks in "glittering generalities
about helping the farmer, about being a friend of the farmer. They are going to give him the protection of the tariff when they know in their hearts that the tariff alone
does not work for him."

Plans Tours as President.
He said if he were elected President he proposed at times to leave the White House to visit other parts of the country.

"If I had remained in Albany
during my terms as Governor," he continued, "I would never have accomplished the re-organization of the Government, or the executive budget, or any of the bond issues.
It could not be done."

Governor would you employ the radio in placing these questions
before the public?" he was asked.
"Yes, that is desirable," he answered, "but I do not think it would be effective, if you were to sit in the White House and do it."

The nominee was questioned, as to whether he thought Herbert Hoover, his rival for the presidency, was any "more silent than the general run of Republican candidates."

Hoover of Standard Type.
"He is just about the standard type," he replied. A correspondent then referred to the number of speeches made by the Republican nominee and the Governor interrupted:

"Well, you say speeches. They are rather statistical essays."
The Democratic nominee was asked for his opinion as to why Republican candidates are "silent."

The principal reason is they cannot defend the record," he answered, and to another query replied:

"We never had any kind of Republican candidates but silent ones,
with the exception of Roosevelt,
that I can remember. They are only running time to form. It isn't an innovation. It is the stock, ordinary, every day article that is offered to us."

No Spokesman Wanted.
"They are all silent men, except Roosevelt."
"If you become President, will you continue the mythical White House spokesman?" the Press conference daily.

"In these daily conferences," his questioner went on, "will we have to submit our questions in writing
so as to give you a little thinking time?"
"No," he said, and then asked,
if he would permit oral questions,
he added: "You can run it the way
this one is being run. What I have stood for eight years, I can stand for four more years."

LEAGUE OF NATIONS GETS SITE FOR PALACE IN GENEVA

Obtains Park Ariana, Evading Restriction of Bequest by Declaring Structure it Will Erect Is Not a "Building."

With the labor office erected on the lake front, plots adjacent had been obtained for the league. Then came the offer of $2,000,000 by John D. Rockefeller Jr. for the erection of a library provided suitable land could be had. The plot on which the League Palace was to be built was large enough to accommodate the palace, but to take advantage of the Rockefeller gift it was necessary to obtain adjacent ground.

The only possible plot was that on which Mrs. Barton's villa, "Lammermoor," is situated. Overtures were made to the owner for
it. She could not bring herself to give up the home of her childhood.
She has lived at "Lammermoor"
all her life. Tearfully she remained firm to entreaties of League and Swiss officials. Even her nearest friends could not move her.

The Swiss Government considered expropriation proceedings,
but the League, having sentimental
as well as material motives, refused to permit her home to be thus taken. Many of the Council members had been entertained at the villa.

The Park Ariana was the next
most suitable plot, but here again
a sentimental difficulty arose. The donor, Gustave Revilliod, in his will had bequeathed the plot in perpetuity as a park in which no building should be erected. The instructions to the trustees, however, left a loophole by which, with the consent of the Revilliod respondents, they could declare the League Palace not a "building."

So a large part of the park has been transferred to the League for use in perpetuity. In return the League surrenders to Geneva League property which it has acquired along the lake, which will be transformed into an addition to the park, Mon Repos.

COURT REFUSES TO PASS ON LIQUOR SHIP CASE
Supreme Tribunal of U. S. Declines to Act in Seizure of Three Foreign Vessels.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Supreme Court refused today to pass on a new question in prohibition enforcement, challenging
the right of the Federal Government to seize foreign vessels outside the three-mile limit when found to have on board cargoes of intoxicating liquors which had not been listed on a manifest.

The French auxiliary schooner
Mistiguet and the British auxiliary schooner Rosie M. B. were seized by the Coast Guard, the former four and a half miles off Long Island, with a liquor cargo valued at $108,000, and the latter 11 miles off Long Island, with a small cargo of malt and malt liquor.

The Federal Courts at New York City sustained the Government. In its contention that the seizures
were legal because neither schooler could produce a manifest covering its cargo, notwithstanding the position of both at the time of seizure established that the cargoes
were destined for this country.

The court also refused to review
the validity of the seizure by the Coast Guard of the British schooner
Vindes and imposition of penalties of $73,583 imposed by the lower Federal courts for violation of the tariff act.

Holding that the liquor was intended for the United States, the lower courts sustained the seizure of the vessel outside the 12-mile limit on the ground that it had been detected within that zone without a warrant.

The Supreme Court also refused to pass on the question whether the Federal Government has the right to impose an income tax on money received from the illicit sale of liquor merely on the strength of a report from a revenue agent.

William H. Haar, in a case from Florida, contended certain assessments were illegal because they were not based on a tax return
made by himself or the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. He was sustained by the Federal District Court, but the Circuit Court of Appeals held them good when made upon a report from a revenue
agent.

The revenue agent reported he had found large bank deposits made by Haar, who had not included them in his income tax return.

DEMOCRATS USING BARRAGE OF MUD, SAYS H. J. ALLEN

G. O. P. Publicity Director Declares "Dozen Reckless Speakers" Are Making Attacks on Hoover.

SAYS HIS CHURCH HAS BEEN ASSAILED
Warns Public Against Advertisements Which He Asserts Smith Men Are About to Publish.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Henry J. Allen, director of publicity of the Republican National Committee, in a statement last night said
he had been warned the Democrats were preparing to publish full page advertisements "to make it appear we are appealing to religious intolerance."

"In view of the known intention of the Democratic leaders to carry forward this type of campaign with increasing intensity," Allen said "it might be wise for the public to be on its guard against the unrestrained indecencies of those whose fury has become desperate."

Allen charged that a "dozen reckless leaders" and a "long list of less known assailants" have given to themselves the task of making unwarranted personal attacks on Mr. Hoover.

Allen's statement follows:
"For ten days the headlines dealing with Democratic activities have not referred to a single issue in this campaign. They have provided an endless crescendo of mud slinging. On the other hand, not a single headline carries a personal attack upon the Democratic candidate from any person responsible to the Republican National Committee."

"Did Mr. Raskob on the day he accepted the chairmanship of the Democratic Committee intend to expose the public to such a prelude to a general barrage of political
mud. Beginning with a mean whispering campaign against Mr. Hoover, the thing has grown until now a dozen reckless leaders, including Senator Jim Reed, Senator Bruce, former Senator Hansbrough, Senator Caraway, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Duke, Ed and Mike
George, Peck, Mayor Jimmy Walker,
Gov. Bilbo of Mississippi, Senator Blease, former Senator Phillips, and a long list of less known assailants, have given themselves to the task of uttering utterly unwarranted personal attacks on Mr.
Hoover. It is difficult to believe that the leaders of the Democratic party have no knowledge of the deliberate work their organization has undertaken in the preparation of this mass of odious material
now deliberately circulated, apparently as a part of a definite program."

"Attacks such as the often exploited forgery about Secretary Hoover's foreign citizenship, the fixing of the price of wheat, ridiculous stories of mythical prophecies in Russia and the equally untruth-ful stories of oil holdings in Colombia and Mexico and a half dozen other canards manufactured by opponents of decency, who have fought Mr. Hoover for 10 years, have been deliberately re-assembled and refurbished by an organized battery of political lawyers and traders apparently for the use of Mr. Raskob's speakers."

Attack on Hoover's Religion.
"Added to this is an attack upon Mr. Hoover's religious faith of a virulence of intolerance unequalled in the campaign. Thousands of dollars are being spent upon anonymous circulation of the country
betting the Quaker faith, infamously stating that it denies the divinity
of Christ and falsely charging it with an unpatriotic pacifism which the history of Anthony Wayne, General Green, and other great military leaders, together with the fact that members of Hoover's family have fought in every war in the history of the United States, disproves. Attacks on the Quaker faith are also being issued in circulars from various Democratic headquarters, including their regional office at St. Louis."

All of this attack has gone un-rebutted. Chairman Raskob did take the manly course in the case of Ex-Senator Hansbrough, the material of whose speech, doubtless unknown to him, was fur-

DECLARES DR. WORK EVADED CHALLENGE
Commends Smith's Louisville Speech to Hoover as Example of Man Taking a Definite Stand.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—John J.
Raskob, Democratic National
Chairman, in an open letter to Dr.
Hubert Work, Republican National Chairman, declared yesterday that the Republican party "has now become simply the prohibition party of the United States."

"I have noted a general call to arms of all your speakers, from
Mr. Hoover down, since our demonstration that the issue of the policy of protection is no longer in politics," Raskob wrote. "I quite understand your perturbation. Without issue, your party has only one permanent policy left.
You now become simply the prohibition party of the United States."

Going into a discussion of Gov.
Smith's attitude toward the Underwood tariff and Hoover's attitude on the post-war wheat price, Raskob charged Dr. Work and other Republican leaders with deliberate misrepresentation of factation and with evasion of his challenges to prove the truth of their assertions.

The letter was designed to answer published statements of
Dr. Work in reply to Raskob's offer of Oct. 6 to resign and vote for Hoover if the chairman of the Republican National Committee
expressed indifference to the tariff.
Gov. Smith had declared the Underwood tariff act embodied the ideal method of handling tariff legislation.

Indifference to Question.
"Your reply," he wrote, "contains neither proof nor retraction
of, nor reference to, your assertion. I assume from this that you express indifference to the question which it was the purpose of my letter to raise."

"This is not the first occasion
in this campaign in which you have led, and your speakers have followed, a course evincing a like indifference to the same virtue.
You recently and publicly charged Senator Robinson with falsely asserting that Mr. Hoover had held down the price of wheat after the armistice."

"I promptly referred you to the cable in which
Mr. Hoover himself had accepted responsibility for keeping down the price of wheat. You did not reply personally, but almost immediately afterward, Senator Borah read to a farm audience in Minneapolis all the numbers of the correspondence of which the cable was the climax
—all of which was irrelevant to the point in issue—but omitted the crucial cablegram which I had brought to your attention."

"I know of no other public document so deceitfully conceived as this speech of Senator Borah's."
On the tariff question, Mr. Raskob referred Dr. Work to Gov.
Smith's Louisville speech and said that the tariff was the issue of the campaign as a much needed example of a man taking a definite stand on a political question."

Unemployment Situation.
"Your irrelevant letter of Oct. 9
is your only reply to my proof and challenge that you have yourself
deliberately misrepresented Gov.
Smith's words about the tariff.
The misrepresentation of Senator Borah's I must take as your only answer to my proof that your assertions regarding Senator Robinson's Charlotte speech were untrue," he said.

"You say that the Democratic administration resulted in unemployment during 1913-14 and also during 1920; yet omit the war period. You say there were 6,000, 000 unemployed in the country in 1920. That statement is untrue. At best figures on the number of unemployed at a particular date are mere guesses, but your administration publishes statistics of employment from year to year and month to month."

"From every angle of approach, your statement that there was such unemployment in 1924 and 1925
that in seven years and a half the Republican party has not been able to repair the damage done the whole employment throughout the whole Republican administration has averaged about 90 per cent. has never approached the 1920 figure, and has been steadily declining and is declining now."

"This is simply another instance of the misrepresentation of fact on which your whole campaign seems to be based. In view of this showing, I deem it unnecessary to notice your query as to whether I do not think that Republican policy has helped agriculture by increasing industrial employment."

"You say, in effect, that the Republicans alone can provide protection because for 100 years they have advocated it, and that the Democrats cannot, because they have adhered to it only since it became necessary, and you want to know if we repudiate the tariff principles of—among others, Cleveland."

"You stress the point that Congress makes tariff schedules and disregarding the Democratic platform and the pronouncements of both the candidates, you say you fear that some Democratic congressional candidate might not agree. Is this not a trifle absurd?"

"The Democratic platform is the platform of the whole party. With both parties agreed on policy, and with a world situation such that any other course would invite inevitable disaster, there is nothing surpriser in our Government than that the principle of complete protection against cheap foreign goods
will be preserved unless you mean to imply that the Republican Congressmen will now abandon it because the Democrats have adopted
it."

Business Depressions.
"You devote some space to business depressions. I assume you refer to the panics of 1892-1893 and 1907. The first came in Cleveland's administration so close on the heels of Harrison's relinquishment of office that it can be ascribed to no cause other than the preceding Republican administration. The second occurred after three years of Republican administration. The Democratic Federal Reserve System would have avoided both."

"You ask if I want to put the farmers of the country back in the conditions in which the Republican party found them in March, 1921,
as though your party had done anything for agriculture."

"I find the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics index of prices of all farm commodities to have been 123 in March, 1921; 126 in March of 1922, and 127 in March, 1923. After recent declines they are probably about where they were in 1921. Grain prices were 131 in March, 1921; 122 in March, 1922; 128 in March, 1923, and they are doubtless much lower today. In other words, agriculture is exactly where you found it in 1921. I do not want to leave it there, but your party has left it there and does want to continue to leave it there. Neither your candidate nor your platform proposes one single measure to increase farm prices and both Mr. Coolidge and your candidate have given explicit reasons for their opposition to any relative increase."

"As for farm credit, the only effective steps ever taken to establish it are Democratic measures—
even including the Intermediate credit act. The effects of eight years of Republican administration on the general farm bal-sheet are too well known to require comment. Nearly every index of prosperity—farm prices, farm purchasing power, commodity prices,
foreign trade, employment, wages,
pig iron production, clearings index
and many others—was better in 1920 (the last Democratic year)
than in practically every Republican year since that time, and no
year since the Wilson administration show the demoralization of 1907
it used."

duction of more than 95,000,000

such proportions as to meet 94 per cent of our own requirements, the report said, with an exportable sur-

SMITH COUNTS ON CITY PLURALITY TO HOLD HIS STATE

Democrats Predict Governor Will Have Lead of at Least 550,000 in Metropolis.

150,000 MAJORITY CLAIMED FOR HOOVER
Republican Leaders Assert Extremely Heavy Registration Forecasts Party's Victory.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—With the election little more than a fortnight away, it is fitting that Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith should be in New York State, Hoover here and Smith in Albany, for whoever wins this doubtful State's 45 electoral votes will carry the equivalent of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Nebraska.

Hoover is scheduled to give a "keynote speech tonight at the New Madison Square Garden. Smith is expected to follow his usual custom of winding up his campaign by a rousing speech somewhere in New York City the Saturday before election.

The Republican candidate, despite the enormous crowd he will have at the Garden, will be speaking in hostile territory. The Democrats confidently predict that New York City and Brooklyn will give Smith a plurality of 550,000. This plurality, say the Democrats, cannot be overcome by any majority Hoover can bring from up-state.
The Democrats arrive at this 550,- 000 plurality figure by adding the increased registration to Smith's previous pluralities.

Normal G. O. P. Up-State Majority.
Democratic strategists frankly admit in private that they have no
hopes of overcoming the "normal" Republican up-state majorities. They are placing their faith in five boroughs—Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens, Richmond and Brooklyn.
These five boroughs have elected Gov. Smith in the past, although he has also carried Albany County in several elections.

Former Senator James W. Wadsworth is the only prominent Republican who gives a definite figure on Republican hopes. He fixes 150,000 as the lowest plurality
Hoover can get. Other Republican leaders were reticent when asked for specific figures. They said that they would have to have the completed registration figures before they could make even a general prediction.

Up-state registration closed Saturday night and was so heavy that complete figures are not yet available.

The Republican leaders insisted,
however, that the heavy registration was omens of Republican victory. Like Republicans in other states, they said that the greatest increase was among the women voters who favored Hoover.

Uncertain as to Registration.
As a matter of fact, neither the Republicans nor the Democrats
know what the heavy registration means. They can only wish they did know. For that reason, it is rather to study the concrete election returns of previous campaigns rather than attempt to clear the air of prejudiced opinions regarding the heavy registration.

The Democratic strategy of having faith in the five metropolitan boroughs has brought victory four times out of five. If past performances are any standard, the five boroughs must produce a majority of over 400,000.

Gov. Smith was beaten by Miller
in the 1920 Republican landslide,
he received a majority of only 220,000 from the five boroughs.
He was defeated by a 74,000 plurality. In that campaign Harding had a 1,140,000 plurality over Cox in the State. Cox's vote in the five city boroughs was 345,271.
Harding's 765,959, a Harding lead of 420,688.

Four years later, Coolidge carried New York by 829,000, but Smith beat young Theodore Roosevelt by 183,000. Smith's pluralities in the five metropolitan boroughs were slightly less than 519,000. Roosevelt's up-State plurality was about 410,000. John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate got 489,172 in the greater city, losing it to Coolidge by 135,929.

In the 1926 gubernatorial election, Smith defeated Wadsworth by a 247,000 plurality. Smith's plurality in New York and Brooklyn was 452,000, which means that Smith had an up-State plurality of 246,000.

In view of the heavy registration and the 519,000 and 482,000
pluralities Smith got in the five metropolitan boroughs in 1924 and 1926 respectively, the prediction of a 550,000 plurality this year is not excessive, as partisan predictions go. It is large enough, however.

ever, to make one doubt the same spokesman when they say they will cut down the normal Republican up-State plurality. This up-State plurality, they insist, will be cut down by Republicans who share Smith's views on prohibition and by the small business men who are attracted by Smith's business administration of State affairs.

It seemed to the writer, that these leaders were on firmer ground when they spoke of the strength Franklin D. Roosevelt brought Smith when he accepted the nomination for Governor. The

New York Telegram, a member of the Scripps-Howard newspaper chain which is supporting Hoover, immediately announced that it favored Roosevelt over Albert Ottinger, the Republican candidate, who according to the Telegram, had a bad water power record.

One Democratic leader was enthusiastic about Roosevelt that he told the writer that Roosevelt would lead Smith in the returns. Smith, heretofore, has always led the Democratic ticket.

At bottom, the Democratic strategy in New York is like the Democratic strategy in Missouri only simpler. The question is, will the city plurality for Smith overcome the out-State plurality for Hoover? Anyone who can decide the question can make a lot of money. The betting is even.

LIBERAL VOTE ON SMITH WASTED, SAYS THOMAS

Socialist Nominee Declares Governor "Almost Certainly Can't Be Elected."

By the Associated Press.
READING, Pa., Oct. 21.—Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate, in an address here last night appealed to liberals and progressives not to "throw away their votes" by casting them for Gov. Smith, "who almost certainly cannot be elected."

In the home city of James M. Smith, his running mate on the Socialist ticket, Thomas asserted that the only issue of real importance in the campaign is "that of building up our party for the service of the people."

"Everything Hoover has said and done," he declared, "makes it clear that he will be on the side of special privilege contemplating this spectacle, some of our progressives are ready to throw away their votes on the Democratic party. Almost certainly they can't elect Smith. Certainly they can't rehabilitate the Democratic party. The Catholic Church is more solidly behind Smith than the Protestant sects are behind Hoover. Thomas said, adding that "only the Socialists have really opposed bigotry by insisting that questions of religion and race do not belong in partisan politics."

Ingrown Nail Turns Right Out!

Pain Stops Instantly!

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can't penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

AUTO RACER TO STEER CAR BY RIFLE SIGHTS

Maj. Segrave Hopes to Make 240 Miles an Hour With Aid of Device.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—When Major H. O. D. Segrave speeds over the sands of Daytona Beach, Fla., in the near future, at a speed of well over 200 miles per hour, he will steer his car by rifle sights. This is one of the features of his new car in which he hopes to attain a speed of 240 miles per hour, perhaps more.

Steering at so enormous a speed is of inestimable difficulty. The slightest error when the car is going at four miles a minute would plunge it into the sea and mean disaster.

Segrave will try to obviate this difficulty by steering the car with sights just like a rifle, and direct it just as a bullet is directed to its target.

The apparatus on the car consists of telescopic sights. These will be trained on a bull's eye target hanging from two goal posts, 25 feet apart. There will be another pair of goal posts, similarly equipped, one mile away.

Segrave will train his sights on the first of these targets, when he is a distance of 4½ miles away, and then start. As he hurtles under the first target suspended over the start of the timed distance he will pick up the second target and steer directly for it.

"It is quite impossible to steer accurately by ordinary objects," Maj. Segrave said in a Daily Mail interview. "The flags marking the course are merely one blurred line. The timing posts are too far away to be visible at the start, and when you get near them they simply jump at you. This new method of steering should be of enormous assistance to me in my attempt."

Between each pair of posts will be an electrical timing strip, lying flat on the sand. The ordinary stopwatch being much too inaccurate for such speeds, a special electrical timing device must be used.

nished by a wing of the Democratic organization. Perhaps the campaign has now gotten out of the hands of Mr. Raskob, Mr. Baruch, Mr. Owen Young and other more representative Democratic leaders.

Says Ads Are Prepared.
"From sources that are reliable come warnings that the remaining days of the campaign will see an increase of the gross unfairness with which the Democratic campaign is to be waged. They have gone so far as to prepare a series of full-page newspaper advertisements in which they have re-assembled statements made by extremists not associated with the Republican campaign, to make it appear that we are appealing to religious intolerance, although such intolerance has been repeatedly denounced by Republican campaign managers and by Mr. Hoover, who in his acceptance speech and subsequently, made the most earnest appeal for complete tolerance in this campaign. The obvious purpose of these opposition tactics is to capitalize into votes the natural resentment of many Americans against religious intolerance. It does not serve and is not intended to decrease intolerance; it serves only to fan the flame."

"Probably no more un-American thing has occurred in this campaign than the deliberate appeal to race prejudice throughout the South, where the Democratic organization has engaged in fiction intended to incite the race prejudice of white people against Mr. Hoover, while in the North reverse English has been used to incite Negroes against the Republican candidate. In doing this the opposition has been heedless of its fact that such stirring of racial, or of religious intolerance, inflicts wounds which will remain for a generation after this election is over."

Tells Public to Watch.

"In view of the known intention of Democratic leaders to carry forward this type of campaign with increasing intensity, it might be wise for the public to be on its guard against the unrestrained indecencies of those whose fury has become desperate."

"In a few days the absurdities, personalities and slanders will cease. On Nov. 7 they will be forgotten, but the voters will have to confront during four years the results that come out of this campaign. It will be well for us to keep our minds upon the material issues which affect our welfare so definitely. The barrage of mud is for the purpose of covering up the real issues and confusing the clear-thinking of the people on the closing days of the campaign."

"One of the most serious signs of our times is that no man, no matter how distinguished and unselfish his years of service to the country have been, can escape, as the candidate for high office, the assault of malignant slanders. Unless this growing tendency in American politics be halted, no man of character will dare to offer himself for office, for fear of the professional assassins of reputation."

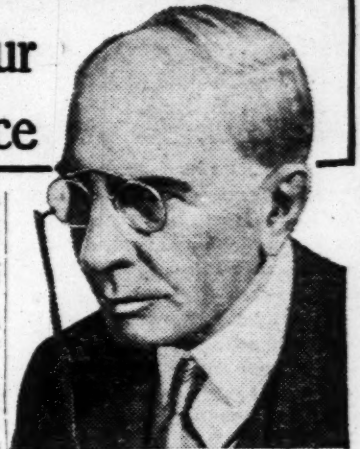

"An opportunity is now offered to the American people to administer to such tactics so crushing a rebuke that it will hereafter be deemed unsafe to use them."

It was said today at the St. Louis Democratic regional head-

in the Paris (Mo.) Mercury which spoke of Quakers being pacifists even as to defensive warfare, but did not criticize Herbert Hoover for his adherence to the faith.

Cascara is Your Doctor's Choice

When physicians pronounce cascara the PERFECT laxative—why experiment with things that lash the system into action? Cascara, you know, is the bark of a tree. A natural and normal stimulus to the bowels.

The Indians, who used to chew this bark, had no word in their language that meant constipation!

Perfect regularity is possible today, and to all of us. We have cascara in ideal form; the very delightful-tasting candy Cascaret gives us pure cascara. It has helped at least a million people to habitual regularity. Millions of others, unfortunately, have stuck to stronger things and acquired only the laxative habit.

CASCARETS

They Work While You Sleep!

Your first Cascaret will demonstrate how THOROUGH this gentle laxative is, after all. Your next surprise will be the length of time before you need another. Eventually, you'll see that cascaring tends to make the bowels move thereafter of their own accord!

A modern drug store must stock many laxatives, but for your own good the druggist would rather have you ask for the inexpensive little box of Cascarets than anything else.

TWO OF "SUNNY JIM" PROMOTERS ON TRIAL

Four Others in Pie Machine Case Plead "No Contest," Mail Fraud Charged

The trial of two men charged with using the mails to defraud and conspiracy in the promotion of the Automat Sales Co., which sold "Sunny Jim" pie and sandwich vending machines in St. Louis in 1935, began today in Federal Judge Davis' court after all other defendants in the case had entered pleas of "no contest."

James A. Hool, president of the company, and Ray W. Heyde, a salesman, entered such pleas to charges of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud, last Thursday. William M. Readey, J. L. O'Brien, Harry S. Farrell and S. E. Miller entered similar pleas today.

H. T. McCann and J. J. Grohman, alone entered pleas of not guilty, and Judge Davis ordered their trial to proceed. More than fifty witnesses were on hand for the Government. The passing of sentence on the other defendants was deferred until the conclusion of the trial.

Investors in the Automat Sales Co., and a companion concern, the Automat Service Co., lost more than $300,000 in the promotion.

REED TO MAKE TWO SPEECHES IN ST. LOUIS ON OCT. 31

One Will Be Delivered at North Turner Hall, the Other in Chouteau Avenue Building.

Senator James A. Reed, who previously had announced that his duties as a lawyer in a patent suit would prevent him from speaking in the early part of the political campaign, will make two speeches in St. Louis in support of the Democratic ticket the night of Oct. 31. The first speech will be given at 8 o'clock at North St. Louis Turner Hall, Twentieth and Salisbury streets, and the second at a hall at 1429 Chouteau avenue at 9:30.

Charles M. Hay, Democratic senatorial nominee for whom Reed has held a bitter hatred, personal as well as political, is carrying his campaign this week into Southwest Missouri, continuing his policy of urging support of Gov. Smith for the presidency.

Hay's itinerary follows: This afternoon, Anderson; tonight, Monett; tomorrow afternoon, Nevada; tomorrow night, Carthage; Wednesday afternoon, Butler; Wednesday night, Independence; Thursday afternoon, Warrensburg; Thursday night, Marshall; Friday afternoon, Fayette; Friday night, Keytesville; Saturday morning, New Franklin; Saturday afternoon, Columbia.

TWO KILLED WHEN PLANE WING BREAKS OFF DURING FLIGHT

Felix Briscois, Pilot, and Joseph Bazinet, Passenger, Victims of Oxford, Mass., Crash.

By the Associated Press.
OXFORD, Mass., Oct. 22.—Two persons were killed when a wing fell from a plane in which they were circling over the flying field here yesterday. Felix Briscois, 26 years old, the pilot of the small biplane had as a passenger Joseph Bazinet. Both were residents of Webster.

Witnesses said the biplane, at an altitude of about 200 feet, was caught by a strong wind. The pilot appeared to have investigation control, but spectators saw one of the wings drop off and the plane plunged downward. Briscois was one of the best known flyers in this section. He recently flew his plane from St. Louis to Oxford.

The patents were sustained by the courts in a suit against the American Smelting and Refining Co.

TEN PLANES ORDERED FOR AIR-RAIL SERVICE

Tri-Motored Fords for Transcontinental Line to Cost $600,000.

An order for 10 tri-motored Ford monoplanes to be used in the combined rail-air transportation service across the continent beginning early next spring was announced today by Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., through the local offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which will conduct the rail end of the system.

The total cost of the 10 planes is approximately $600,000 and represents the largest single order for tri-motored planes ever placed. The planes, equipped with Pratt & Whitney air-cooled motors of 400 horsepower each, will have a maximum speed of 135 miles an hour. They will carry 12 passengers and a crew of three and baggage.

Under present plans, passengers will leave New York in the evening by train for Columbus, O., where they will transfer to a plane the next morning. There will be a luncheon stop at St. Louis and the plane will continue to Dodge City, Kan., where passengers will again board a train. The aerial journey will be resumed the following morning at Las Vegas, N. M., with arrival at Los Angeles the same afternoon and San Francisco that evening.

Col. Lindbergh is chairman of the technical committee in charge of planning the route and schedules.

KANSAS CITY MURDER LAID TO 'BROWN SUGAR COMBINE'

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22.—Police today attributed to the "Brown Sugar Combine" the murder Saturday night of Joe Wilner, 34 years old, proprietor of three bakeries.

Wilner, who was left dying in the street near one of his bakeries by four unidentified men who riddled his automobile with charges from a sawed-off shotgun and automatic pistols, died a large business in brown sugar with illicit liquor manufacturers, detectives said.

Police said Wilner had incurred the enmity of a combine also supplying illegal distillers. It is the police theory that Wilner had been warned that his life was in danger as he had taken out a large amount of life insurance in weeks ago.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

An Emblem that Assures Fair Prices

AN inevitable experience faces every family on an average of once in fifteen years. When it happens it dulls business sense and clouds all sound reasoning.

Values of merchandise and services in the funeral service business are not generally known or revealed. The emblem of Bureau members is an assurance of complete service and fair prices.

The Funeral Service Bureau of America was organized to give the public funeral service of high quality at prices adjusted to every purse. The membership, while open to all funeral directors able to qualify, is confined to establishments big enough to achieve low costs and assure fair prices.

Among those who have approved the Funeral Service Bureau of America is the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company through the report of its Committee on Burial Survey.

The Bureau Member in this city is

BUT ONE MISSOURI DRY ACT CONVICT IS FROM A CITY

Of 119 Now in Penitentiary 118 Are From Rural Districts—None From St. Louis.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—Imposing of penitentiary sentences for violations of the State bone dry law is restricted, in practice, to rural counties, and rural sections of Missouri, and such violators, if convicted in State courts in the larger cities, escape with the less severe penalties of fines or jail terms, a survey of the penitentiary commitment records discloses.

With one exception all of the 119 convicts now in the Missouri penitentiary for violations of the State prohibition enforcement law are from the rural counties of the State, demonstrating a marked difference of opinion between rural and city judges and juries as to application of penalties provided by the act.

This difference is borne out by State Supreme Court records, as virtually all appeals to the court in liquor cases, whether involving fines, jail or prison sentences, are from rural counties, and this indicates more strict enforcement of the act in the country.

The one exception in the penitentiary is a convict from Kansas City, and he has the doubtful distinction of being only the second person sent to the prison from Jackson County under the State enforcement act, since it was passed in 1923. The first one from Jackson County was discharged in 1927 after serving two years for operating a whisky still.

None From St. Louis. Checking of all commitments from St. Louis and St. Louis County since the date on which the bone dry law became effective in 1923, disclosed that no one had been sent to the prison from the city or county for violation of the enforcement act. The record of convicts now in the penitentiary for liquor law violations shows none from Buchanan County, which includes St. Joseph, or Greene County, which includes Springfield.

Of course the penitentiary record contains no information concerning liquor cases in which fines or jail terms were imposed, or sentences suspended.

Contrary to the belief that the enforcement act has been a factor in crowding the penitentiary, the 119 serving sentences under it constitute but 3.1 per cent of the 3822 convicts in the prison. No Federal prisoners are confined in the Missouri prison, that practice having been abandoned several years ago, and the liquor law violators in the prison are limited to those prosecuted under the State law in the State courts.

Prison officials said approximately 400 persons had been sent to the penitentiary under the bone dry measure since it became effective, and that the number now under sentence was about the average.

A survey of the commitment records of the convicts now in the prison showed 39 were convicted of selling liquor, 33 of transporting it, and 31 of manufacturing liquor. Nine were convicted of possessing or operating a still, two were imprisoned for giving away whisky, and the commitments of five merely set forth "violation of the prohibition law."

One of the two convicts serving sentences for giving away whisky is from Pike County and the other is the one large-city representative from Kansas City. Each received a two-year sentence.

A similar case, in which a Marlon County farmer was sentenced to serve two years in prison for giving away several drinks of whisky to his coworkers on a hay baling machine, was reversed by the Supreme Court about a year ago, because of failure of the State to prove the gift whisky was "moonshine," as specifically charged in the indictment.

Average Sentence 3 Years.

Sentences imposed upon the enforcement act violators range from two to five years. Most of them are two or three years. The few cases in which four or five-year sentences were imposed usually involve convictions on more than one count.

Another geographical distinction in the 119 liquor law cases is that 89 of the convicts are from Missouri counties south of the Missouri River. Nine are from North-west Missouri counties and 21 from Northeast Missouri. Ozark County, in Southwest Missouri, has the largest number—eight of those now in prison. Laclede County, in the same section, and Pike County, in Northeast Missouri, each furnished six, and Stoddard, in Southeast Missouri, had five. The remainder of the 119 were sentenced from 54 other counties.

St. Louis Felony Dry Act Cases Handled in U. S. Court.

There have been no felony convictions in St. Louis under the State dry law because of an arrangement between the Circuit Attorney and the Federal authorities by which all these cases are sent to the Federal Courts for disposition, usually terminating in fines or jail sentences imposed by Federal Judges Faris and Davis.

Misdemeanor cases under the State dry law are under the jurisdiction of Prosecuting Attorney Schweitzer, who has said the law is difficult of enforcement in a community where it is unpopular, as in St. Louis, where jury trials usually result in acquittals.

The Post-Dispatch last July 2 published a Police Department survey of the disposition of 548 St. Louis cases presented in State courts in 1927, with fines of $68,900 assessed and only $300 collected. Judges Gayer and Butler of the Courts of Criminal Correction make it a practice to accept pleas of guilty, assess the minimum fine of $200, and then stay the fine upon payment of costs. Both Judges regard the minimum fine as too severe.

MODERN CHILD LIKES HOMEMADE COOKIES

Boys and Girls Crave Something Sweet, Appetizing and Nourishing.

An old-fashioned housekeeper who had successfully raised a large family of children, who had all grown up and most of whom had gone to homes of their own, said the other day that she felt that the modern child lost a great deal by not having a cookie jar to dip into when he was hungry.

Perhaps she is right. For those of us who remember a pantry with a stone jar filled with sugar or ginger cookies, or chocolate jumbles covered with white icing, would not willingly give up such memories.

If you have children, initiate them into the delights of a cookie jar. There are a few simple kinds that can be made quickly. They fill the need for a child's desire for sweets in a wholesome, nourishing manner, and they have many uses as "fillers in" on various household occasions.

A good standard cookie recipe which can be varied in many ways is as follows: Work one-half cup butter or any other shortening to a soft cream with one cup of sugar. When thoroughly blended add two eggs and beat well. Then stir in two tablespoons of milk, water, strong coffee, orange juice or pineapple juice.

Sift together three cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt and two teaspoons baking powder. Add this gradually, mixing thoroughly. It will make a rather stiff dough, but one that is just a little sticky to the fingers. Chill thoroughly, which will further stiffen the mixture and allow it to be rolled easily. Chilling the mixture insures a crisp, more tender cookie than if more flour is added to the dough. Too much flour makes a tough cookie.

Roll part of the mixture at a time on a floured board until about one-eighth inch thick. Shape as desired, place on a greased baking pan and bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—for ten minutes.

If fruit juice or coffee is used instead of milk, the flavor of the cookies will vary. If milk is used, chocolate cookies can be made by adding to the mixture before the flour is put in.

For the chocolate jumbles, roll the dough into one-eighth-inch thickness and shape with a "nut" cutter so that there is a hole in the center. Bake in a moderate oven—375 degrees—as chocolate mixture burns quite easily. Bake from eight to ten minutes, then cool and spread each jumble with a sugar water icing made by mixing confectioners' sugar with a little water, allowing about two teaspoons to one-half cup of sugar.

For nut cookies, add one-half cup chopped walnuts, peanuts or pecans to the mixture with the flour.

For fruit cookies, add one-half cup of chopped, pitted dates, one-half cup seedless raisins and a teaspoon of grated orange rind. Roll to one-fourth-inch thickness and bake for 12 to 15 minutes at 375 degrees.

BEGIN DINNER WITH SOUP

This is an Age-Old Practice That Cannot Be Improved On.

With the vegetable dinner failing in with cold weather dinners, try beginning such a meal with a cup of piping hot broth or consommé.

Those who are confirmed vegetarians may skip the first course, but most of us who like to steer a middle course prefer to have at least the flavor of meat in our meals with reasonable frequency.

To begin a meal with a cup of savory soup makes the vegetables that follow seem much more filling.

Appetizing Sausage.
There is no doubt of the value of the meat products. They contain protein and fat in digestible form. Sliced sausage is an example of the very best of food, served in so appealing a style as to tempt the appetite.

FOREIGN DISHES FOR THE FAMILY TABLE

Study Nationality in Foods and Introduce Foreign Dishes Occasionally.

American housewives who desire to serve foreign dishes on their tables should learn how to combine the best of the foreign dishes with the best of our American cooking. If we would be real cosmopolites we must use discretion and restraint in our cooking especially in the combination of American type dishes with dishes that are specialties in foreign countries.

These recipes for foreign dishes are offered with the suggestion that they are excellent.

Irish Stew.
Take three pounds of beef from the shoulder or round, four tablespoons fat, one-half cup flour, two quarts water, six small carrots, six small onions, six small white turnips, 12 small potatoes, two stalks celery, one small piece of bay leaf, two teaspoons salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper.

Cut meat into two-inch cubes and dredge with flour. Heat fat in frying pan and sear meat; then turn into a kettle and add boiling water and bay leaf. Cook at boiling-point for one hour. Prepare vegetables and cut into quarters. Add to meat and continue cooking for 35 minutes. Add seasonings; remove meat and vegetables to a serving dish. Thicken gravy with remainder of flour and pour over meat and vegetables.

Royal Scallops (Scotch).
In a baking dish arrange in alternate layers chopped boiled or baked ham, eggs, crumbles and white sauce. Dot with butter and bake in a moderate oven 20 minutes.

Mexican Stew.
Take four cups cabbage, one green pepper, one pimiento, one small onion, three-fourths cup French dressing and one-fourth cup Roquefort cheese.

Shred cabbage and green pepper; add thinly sliced pimiento and onion. Blend mashed Roquefort cheese with French dressing. Serve on lettuce with dressing.

This salad may be elaborated by filling rose pimiento cups with shredded vegetables, which have been mixed with French dressing and garnished with mixed Roquefort and cream cheese, by putting the star point. For this method add one cream cheese to the Roquefort and soften with one tablespoon of Mayonnaise.

Hungarian Stringbeans.
Take a pound and a half of stringbeans and string and cut in small pieces. Take two large onions, cut in small pieces, two tablespoons of lard and brown it.

Wash string beans, add salt and two small slices of bacon. Add one glass of water, steam it on low plate till done.

Take two tablespoons of lard, two tablespoons of flour and brown it, add cold water and sift it in string beans.

Cook over again. Take the juice of one and one-half lemons, two tablespoons of sugar and make it sweet sour. Boil over again for five minutes, turn off gas.

Take two eggs beaten stiff. Before serving mix the eggs in stringbeans.

Genoise Pastry.
This pastry which is suitable for "Petit Fours" and other small fancy cakes is easily made. Break three large eggs into upper part of double boiler, add one-half cup sugar and set over hot water on a cool portion of the stove on a very low flame. Beat mixture with a rotary egg beater until very light and frothy, never permitting the mixture to become too hot. Sift pastry flour, measure three-fourths cup of pastry flour and sift again with three-fourths teaspoon baking powder, melt one-fourth cup butter; remove egg and sugar mixture from heat and add butter and flour alternately to it, working quickly. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla extract.

Pour batter into well greased shallow pans and bake about 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Remove from oven and cut while warm into small fancy cakes. Split each cake with sharp heated knife and put together with jam, jelly or any other filling. Ice and decorate as preferred.

Toasted Sponge Cake.
Toasted sponge cake is a simple and rather unusual accompaniment to the salad, but is one that has become very popular in a certain well known tea room. Slices of bakers' sponge cake can be conveniently used. Cut them in slices a scant one-half inch thick. Toast a golden brown. Spread very lightly with butter and sprinkle with a mere trace of salt.

SPICED SWEETMEATS AGAIN IN FAVOR

Highly Seasoned Cakes and Puddings Have Regained Their Popularity.

Spiced cookery, which was so dear to the hearts of our great grandmothers, is coming into popularity again, with the result that spiced puddings, cakes, cookies and spiced meats are being served in hotels, clubs, restaurants and tearooms.

Several nice spiced dishes are included in the following recipes.

Eggless Spice Cake.
 Take three cups pastry flour, one cup sugar, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon allspice, one teaspoon mace, one teaspoon cloves, one-half cup melted shortening, one and one-fourths cups water and one teaspoon vanilla. Sift together all dry ingredients. Add liquid shortening with water and vanilla and stir until well mixed. Bake in layers in moderately hot oven for 20 minutes, or in a loaf cake pan when you must bake it for about 45 minutes. Remove from oven and when cool spread with maple icing made of one tablespoon strong hot coffee, three tablespoons maple syrup, few drops vanilla and confectioners sugar. Mix together coffee, syrup, and vanilla and beat in confectioners sugar until stiff enough to spread.

Spiced Batter Pudding.
 Take one and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, six tablespoons sugar, one egg and one-half cup milk.

Mix dry ingredients; mix egg, melted fat and milk. Combine the two, cutting lightly. Spread in a layer tin and bake 20 minutes. Cut in squares and serve with cream or with hard and soft sauces.

For Hard Sauce.
 For the hard sauce take two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon boiling water, one teaspoon vanilla extract and one cup powdered sugar.

For Soft Sauce.
 Cream butter and sugar; add water and flavoring. Beat until light and creamy. Then set aside to harden. Cut in squares and serve with pudding.

Spiced Date Cookies.
 One cup white flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups whole wheat flour, one cup nut meats, chopped, one-half cup dates, chopped; one cup sugar, two eggs, one-fourth cup melted shortening, one-fourth cup milk, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, one-fourth teaspoon allspice, one-fourth teaspoon mace and one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon.

Mix and sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add whole wheat, nuts, dates and spices or pastry spice and stir well. Drop in egg unbeaten; add fat and milk and stir to a smooth dough. Drop on a cookie sheet and bake 30 to 35 minutes in a moderate oven.

Spiced Bran Cookies.
 The ingredients for these cookies are three cups bran, one-half cup sugar, one cup white flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda, one teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-half cup shortening, one-half cup molasses, three-fourths cup buttermilk and two eggs.

Sift dry ingredients on to bran; add soft shortening with molasses and milk and unbeaten eggs. Stir until thoroughly mixed and drop on to cookie sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven 15 to 20 minutes.

DELICIOUS HONEY ROLLS
APPRECIATED AT BREAKFAST
 Homemade Hot Breads Are Ready to Make in the Kitchenette.

For honey rolls, which are delicious for breakfast or luncheon, take one yeast cake, two tablespoons sugar, one pint milk, four tablespoons lard or butter, three pints sifted flour and one teaspoon salt.

Dissolve yeast and sugar in milk, which has been scalded and cooled to lukewarm. Add melted lard or butter and one and one-half pints sifted flour. Beat until perfectly smooth. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about one hour. Then add remainder flour and salt; knead for five minutes.

Place in bowl; cover and let rise until double in bulk, about one hour. Roll out one-quarter inch thick. Brush over lightly with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon, and nuts if desired. Roll up like jelly roll. Cut in one-half inch slices and place in pan which has been spread with four tablespoons butter and six tablespoons sugar, mixed well. Cover, let rise until double in bulk, about one-half hour, and bake in a moderate oven 25 minutes.

Low Heat to Cook Cheese.
 In making cheese dishes remember that too much heat or too quick at heat used in cooking, will make the cheese hard and indigestible. Cheese rarebit, cheese custard, cheese loaf, or any similar dish in which cheese is used, should be cooked over a slow heat and only long enough to melt the cheese.

By Dent McKimming.

There is a fountain of football talent somewhere in this town. No sooner does one club disintegrate than another bursts into power, apparently better than its predecessor. Soccer fans a few days ago were sighing over the remnants of a once great Ben Miller club, but today the same fans are expressing admiration for the new found Madison Kennel Club team. Here, they say, is a football club.

In their first appearance in a league match, a week ago, the Madisons defeated the Tablers, city champions, by five goals to one. But the Tablers were obviously out of condition. The real test came yesterday when the Madisons went up against the Wellstone club. How well they met the test may be judged from the score: Madisons 4, Wellstone 1. The victory gave the Madisons the league lead.

In two games the Madisons have scored 11 goals while their opponents have scored but two. Next Sunday this new sensation of the local soccer world will oppose the Ben Miller and unless the Miller management produces a greatly improved team the story is likely to be repeated.

Show a Tight Defense. Perhaps the Madisons were fortunate to catch the Wellstone unprepared, with two good players out of the lineup—Fullback Tommy White and Center Forward Rudge. But had White and Rudge been in the game the result could hardly have been otherwise. A strong defense which bottled up the Wellstone forwards, harassed them at every step, beat them to every loose ball and completely obliterated all sign of combination play was the thing which stopped the lads in blue. A two-goal lead obtained in the first four minutes of play gave the Madison players confidence, but that lead would have been wiped out quickly had not the Madison defense proved remarkably tight. It was the sort of defense which takes account of every opposing player and covers him. Thus, Aherns, Reilly and the Hart cousins failed to shine as they did against the amateurish resistance offered by the Ben Miller on the previous Sunday.

The weaknesses which have always been apparent in the Wellstone team, at the wing half positions and at right half, stood out in bold relief as the speedy young Madison forwards ran through for goal after goal. There were always big, wide avenues through which Moore, Flavin or Worden could dash to take a pass or drill a shot. There was a threat in the feet of every forward, making the task of the demoralized Wellstone defense even more difficult. If the fullbacks spread wide to cover Hanson and Greenon, the attack swarmed through the center; if the defenders piled up on Flavin, in center, the damaging thrust came via the wing men. There was no stopping it. It was versatile and deceptive and it was always well done.

No System in Play. The first game was no game at all. Jerry Shea of the Tablers rammed a goal into the Miller net in the first minute of play on a corner kick from Brenigle, but there was no scoring thereafter. In place of well-directed ground passes the players of both clubs resorted to an aerial game. Halfbacks on one side punted the ball 50 yards into the feet of opposing halfbacks and after a succession of such volleys the ball usually landed out of bounds. There wasn't a clever passing movement in the entire game. This is not to say the boys weren't trying. They fought bitterly, desperately, for every loose ball. But it was sherry

St. Louis Golf Team Is Defeated by Six Points
In Matches With Chicago

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—After remaining in St. Louis since its donation a year ago, the Richards Cup, given to foster competition between Chicago and St. Louis golfers, was back in Chicago last night to remain until at least next fall.

The St. Louis team which came to defend the cup was soundly beaten by Chicago, 10½ to 4½, in a team match which consisted of 10 individual matches and five four-ball matches. St. Louis won the cup in 1927, the first year it was competed for, the match being played at St. Louis.

The St. Louis team, after holding its own fairly well in the four-ball matches which were played in the morning, was badly outscored in the individual competition. With the rules of the competition providing for the awarding of one point to the winner of each match, and with one-half point going to each contestant in halved rounds, the Chicago players outscored the St. Louisans, 2 to 2, in the four-ball round. With Chicago requiring only five more points to capture the cup, the victors set to work at once to run up their total. Of the first five matches played, Chicago won three and halved two for four points.

O'Brien Is St. Louis Victor. Chick Evans, who was one of the winners, broke the losing streak that has been with him for some time past. Jack O'Brien left the issue still undecided by winning St. Louis' only match of the afternoon when he downed Ben Stevenson, 3 to 2, but Jack Westland and Chris Kenney halved their round to give Chicago another half point, and Frank Thompson defeated Roger Lord to clinch the cup.

JACK DUNN,
NOTED BASEBALL
FIGURE, DIES

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—Jack Dunn, owner and manager of the Baltimore Orioles, seven times pennant winner in the International League, died suddenly today, when riding at the dog trials of the Maryland Field Trial Association near Towson, a Baltimore suburb.

Dunn's death was believed to have been caused by a heart attack. Others attending the trials said he had exhibited intense excitement just after one of his dogs, Bell The Devil, had made a beautiful point. A moment later, they reported, his head sagged forward and he slumped from his horse's back.

First to reach the baseball manager was one of his dog handlers, Dr. Royston Green of Towson, who was summoned, pronounced Dunn dead when he reached the field and several of those who saw him fall from the horse expressed the belief that he was dead before reaching the ground.

Jack Dunn was an outstanding figure in minor league baseball for a number of years. His first experience was as a player with the Binghamton club in New York State and after an apprenticeship in the minors, he made his way to the major leagues as a pitcher, playing with the New York and Brooklyn National League clubs.

Dunn had been in Baltimore as a player in 1901, under the management of John McGraw. He came here as manager in 1907, succeeding Hugh Jennings, who went to pilot the Detroit Tigers.

He discovered Ruth. The most valuable player in baseball today, Babe Ruth, was discovered and developed by Dunn at Baltimore, but it is a curious fact that he was disposed of to Boston in 1914 at a price reported to be not over $3000.

In contrast with this Dunn has sold such stars as Lefty Grove to the Athletics for $100,000; Jack Raftery to the Giants for $65,000 and others, including Bax Bishop, Joe Boley and George Earnshaw, to the Athletics all for big prices.

His introduction to Ruth. Here's how Dunn once described his introduction to Ruth:

"When Ruth was recommended to me by the Brothers at St. Mary's, I set aside one winter day to look over this promising recruit. I found Ruth sliding on the ice. He was a bunch of school kids. He wore a pair of overalls and looked like a big kid himself. Still he looked like an athlete to me and the Brothers recommended him so highly I decided to give him a chance. In the meantime the other boys stood around and said, 'Gee, there goes our ball club.'"

That was 1914, the year of the Federal League invasion of Baltimore and Dunn, in financial difficulties, was forced to sell such stars as Ruth, Shore and Egan to the Red Sox for a reported amount of $25,000.

Mr. Dunn's only survivor in his widow. The death of his only son, Jack Dunn Jr., several years ago was a severe blow to the father who had counted on the son to succeed him as owner and manager of the Orioles. Even intimate friends of Dunn said they did not know his exact age, which was one fact about himself that he seldom revealed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The Los Angeles Fire Department football team crushed New York's smoke eaters, 57 to 0, before 35,000 at the Polo Grounds yesterday. Dyer, fullback of the invaders, ran 70 and 90 yards for the first two touchdowns.

MRS. SCHULTE WINS
WOMEN'S BOWLING EVENT

Mrs. Myrtle Schulte captured the women's individual handicap tournament on the Washington alleys with a score of 576 pins. Mrs. Schulte rolled games of 180, 193 and 191 for a grand total of 564, and received a handicap of 12 pins. Second place went to Miss H. Sickling, a member of the Spirit of Service team in the Washington Ladies' Handicap League, with a score of 562. Miss Sickling received a handicap of 34 pins. Mrs. H. Bostelman finished third with 557, her handicap being 42 pins. Fourth prize was won by Miss Marcelle Burkhardt of the Grand-Leader Girls' League, Miss Burkhardt rolling 454 scratch, which with her handicap of 37 gave her a total of 541, and fifth and last prize went to Miss Nell Dorman, who shot a total of 540, of which 111 pins was handicap. This event will be held again next Saturday night, the first squad starting to bowl at 6 p. m.

CREIGHTON U.
ACCEPTS OFFER
TO JOIN M. V.

By the Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 22.—Creighton University of Omaha has accepted an invitation to join the Missouri Valley Conference. The addition of Creighton is the first since Drake, Grinnell, Oklahoma A. and M. and Washington were left alone in the conference by the withdrawal of the University of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri and Iowa State and Kansas State Colleges, which formed a new athletic conference, commonly called the "Big Six."

The Omaha institution gave notice of its acceptance of the invitation to join the valley loop in a long-distance telephone conversation with Dr. L. S. Ross, faculty representative on the Missouri Valley Conference board from Drake University. A letter officially accepting the invitation is expected early this week.

The addition of Creighton is the first since Drake, Grinnell, Oklahoma A. and M. and Washington were left alone in the conference by the withdrawal of six state institutions last spring. Creighton formerly was a member of the North Central Conference.

An invitation to join the remaining four members of the conference in the formation of a six-school league is believed to have been sent to at least one other institution in the Middle West, but no official announcement of its attitude has been made. Butler University, which was among those invited to join the loop, refused the invitation, saying it felt it was outside of the natural rivalry territory and too far removed from the location of the other institutions.

It is believed the Missouri Valley Athletic Conference will, for the present at least, follow the example of the "Big Six" and limit its membership to a half dozen schools. Under that arrangement, it is pointed out, each school would meet each other member of the loop in each sport each year, thereby giving a basis for the determining of official championships.

Reece Injured,
May Miss Game
With Nebraska

By the Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 22.—Kern Reece, 215-pound fullback of the University of Missouri football squad, was confined in a hospital here yesterday suffering from a hip injury that may keep him on the sidelines when the Tigers meet Nebraska's Cornhuskers at Lincoln next Saturday.

Other injured Missouri players received in their 28-to-19 triumph over Iowa State College here Saturday would be healed before the week's practice grind was well under way.

On Reece, Coach Gwinn Henry had depended for the secondary defense in the Husker clash. Now, he has tentatively cast Robert Byars, punter, at fullback. Byars would be teamed with Rosenheim, Deimund and Mehrie, to make up a backfield composed solely of ponies, averaging around 167 pounds in weight.

Henry expressed satisfaction with the Tigers' work against the Cyclones after his men had "spotted" their opponents three touchdowns, scored from a quartet of Missouri fumbles. He said he had thought it impossible for the Tigers to overcome the 19-point lead Ames amassed in the first and second periods before Mehrie ran wild for two touchdowns, aided by sprints by Rosenheim and Byars, bagged two more.

Kaiser Opposes Cincinnati
Boxer in Feature Contest
Of Coliseum Card, Tonight

By Damon Kerby

With three 10-round bouts between featherweights arranged as the features of his fight card tonight at the Coliseum, Matchmaker Jack Tippet of the Fred W. Stockham post of the American Legion has promised to give the fans a program filled with action.

Now action, as defined by Webster, is the process of doing; operation and activity, and to go further, its synonyms include battle, behavior, exercise, motion and work. Therefore in the light of the dictionary Matchmaker Tippet's somewhat trite promise of a "card filled with action" is not entirely unimportant.

Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser, the local featherweight leader, was probably in mind when Tippet thought of action and its various synonyms. Kaiser showed that quality in the last card at the Coliseum when he defeated Milton Mangum in a hard-fought 10-round bout. Kaiser is scheduled to meet Jimmy Harris of Cincinnati.

Harris has Good Record. Harris will be making his first appearance here. His record includes victories over Lou Bloom, Mickey Hartnett, Jimmy McDermott and other boxers of about the same caliber. Those mentioned are unknown locally, but are so rated in boxing circles that Tippet believes victories over them would indicate that the victor would be a worthy opponent for Kaiser.

Another local featherweight favorite, Paul Steadman, will oppose Joey Rivers of Kansas City, and Joe Paglini of Louisville will meet Al de Rose of Newark, N. J., in the other 10-round bouts.

De Rose had drawn attention to himself in his workouts here by his stiff punching ability. Followers of his training workouts assert that he almost dropped Lou Terry, local brawler, in a sparring session Friday. He will meet a tough, rugged opponent in Paglini.

Two Six-Round Bouts. The opponent of Steadman, Rivers, will be recalled as the boxer who almost had Tommy O'Laughlin out in their bout here last spring, only to weaken and allow the Illinois fighter to earn a draw. At that time Rivers claimed the featherweight championship of Missouri.

Two six-round preliminary events are scheduled. Bruno Klaesner, South Side featherweight, will go against Nick Broglio of Johnston City, Ill., and Joe Ghnoully, former Western A. A. U. bantam champion, is matched with Frog Vidal of Scott Field.

Ghnoully has built up quite a following, due to his aggressive, since turning professional. In the other 10-round bouts, he defeated Ray Palmer and Paul Lang.

The first bout starts at 8:30 o'clock. Harry Sharpe and Walter Heisner will alternate as referees.

Previous fights he defeated Ray Palmer and Paul Lang. The first bout starts at 8:30 o'clock. Harry Sharpe and Walter Heisner will alternate as referees.

NEW ORLEANS HANDICAP
REDUCED BY LOSSES
TO $25,000 PURSE

By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—The New Orleans Handicap, formerly the richest racing stake on Southern tracks, will be reduced from $50,000 added money to $25,000 this year because of losses sustained by the Fair Grounds last year.

J. M. Murphy, general manager of the Louisiana Jockey Club, estimated the race would be worth about $35,000 to the winner with the remaining 50 per cent of the sweepstakes of starting and non-starting fees being split between second, third and fourth place horses on a sixty-thirty-ten basis. The race will be run Feb. 1.

The Fair Grounds meet will start on New Years and end with Mardi Gras, Feb. 12. Because of the shortness of the meet, the Lincoln birthday handicap and the Orleans kindergarten will be eliminated.

RAY FALTERS
LAST 3 MILES
AND OUAFI WINS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Ray body always is taking the joy out of life for "Chesty Jole" Ray. When Jole was a miler in the Paave Nurmi, the famous Finnish marathon runner, he was the little dark-skinned, wire-haired Arab.

Making his professional running debut at Madison Square Garden last night, Ray, once king of American milers, was distanced by El Ouafi, who repeated, by a decisive margin, his triumph over the little Chicagoan in the Olympic marathon at Amsterdam this summer.

The race attracted a crowd variously estimated at from 10,000 to 12,000 persons. On the official figures may depend whether Ray, Rickard will seek further to lure the public in long distance running.

For 22 miles of the long race, "Chesty Jole" appeared to have an excellent chance of reversing the verdict at Amsterdam, just as he did in 1926, when he won the Orando in 1926. He was awarded the 1926 Olympic medal then crown after Orando collapsed a short distance from the finish and was disqualified who friends dragged him across the line. Orando, however, obtained his revenge when he bested Ray in the old Madison Square Garden later in the same year.

Not so Ray. The gullible runner hung like a shadow in the spindle-legged Arab for most of a score of miles but in the end Ouafi's superior stamina told. Ray began to falter on the twenty-third mile and the Arab, seeing his condition, immediately lengthened his stride and soon picked up a full lap on the American. Before the punishing grind of 26 miles 385 yards was completed, El Ouafi had stretched his advantage close upon three laps. His time was 2:41:55 2-5, remarkably fast for indoor running.

Seven others started with Ray and El Ouafi but only Arthur Newton of South Africa, Juri Lashman of Estonia and Sam Rickman of New York were able to finish.

El Ouafi collected $4000 for his winning efforts. Ray $1000 for second place, Newton $150 for third, Lashman $500 for fourth, and Rickman $250 for fifth.

BILLIKEN TEAM TO PREPARE FOR CREIGHTON GAME

By GEORGE HOLLAND.

The St. Louis University football team plays the first of four strong opponents Saturday at Sportsman's Park, when Creighton University of Omaha, Neb., opposes the Billikens

The Billikens haven't had much success with Creighton in recent years and made one of their best showings last season in holding the Omaha team to a 14-7 score. Joe

"Hunk" Anderson's team has only a slight chance of victory this year but if the squad continues to improve as it has in the last two weeks, the Billikens should be able

The Billikens will be on the short end of the odds in any of the next three games. They must tackle Detroit in the only out-of-town game after meeting Creigh- ton, and the Loyola, which has a strong eleven, will call at Sportsman's Park after that. Loyola gained an impressive 26-0 victory over Lombard Saturday.

Creighton has lost two of its three previous games but the two defeats have been at the hands of exceptionally strong opponents.

Minnesota gave the Omaha team a 40-0 trouncing and Oklahoma U. won a 7-0 decision. Last Saturday, Creighton defeated the Okla- homa Aggies, 37 to 0.

"Hunk" Anderson will follow his usual policy of giving his squad only a light workout today with perhaps a blackboard lecture on Saturday's game. Scrimmages will be held tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

Pep from its peptones of cod livers; increased strength from its nutritive extracts; and banishment of body poisons by its purifying hyphosphites—these are the benefits of Phospho-Cod. And yet, it has a taste as palatable as old wine.

Rains, which were reported putting stop to huckers for at least a time, gave an upward trend to the corn market.

Meanwhile, talk was current that more corn than usual has been contracted for ahead of picking time. Another built-in influence was an unofficial report that the Italian corn crop this season is 61,795,000 bushels, against 57,550,000 bushels last year, and that the yield of rice in Italy is 60,000 tons less than for 1927.

What Some New York Notables Are Wearing

By Belle Brummel

OCTOBER finds most of the fashionable folk in the country. Those who linger on in the fall manage to fill their days with riding to the hounds, golfing, yachting, racing and polo, and of course, dining and dancing informally, night in and night out, goes without saying. Three times a week, the Meadow Brook Hounds chase the red-tailed fox across country, guided by Harry Peters, the efficient Master of Hounds.

There is a vogue among grown-ups, as well as tiny tots, for sister ensembles. Phyllis and Janice Thayer wear these amusing costumes with much grace.

I saw both of these young ladies at the Piping Rock Horse Show Thursday, but must confess, was a bit baffled when the Misses Thayer turned to wave to some friend—for there was no telling them apart, from the back at least. From the tips of their brown felt hats to the toes of their brown lace sport shoes, they matched in every detail, including the short brown velvet jackets and striped brown and beige skirts.

Driving from Gustavia Sneffs to Ambrose Clark's Saturday, we met little Frederica Hoffman astride her faithful black pony, which was being carefully guided by a groom. Young Miss Hoffman was a miniature replica of a fashionably habited equestrienne.

Shades of brown, always smart for riding, appeared in her medium brimmed felt hat, orange and brown striped wool sweater, wellingtons. The high round neck, which is being used on so many of the new sweaters, was a feature of the tiny rider's sweater.

Mrs. Martin Beck finds shades of brown very becoming. One of her most charming frocks is developed in a flat worsted weave of brown cut in one piece, but made that turns down in less easily brushed off by overhanging bows than a stiff-brimmed bowler.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt who, like Mrs. Hitchcock, finds blue an appealing color, introduces an individual touch to her costume by knotting a large sports handkerchief to the strap of her flat envelope bag. Mrs. F. Burrill Hoffman ties her kerchief about her throat. On the whole, however, gay kerchiefs have vanished with the summer. It is to be regretted, for they furnish a vivid touch of color to otherwise sombre costumes.

Mrs. A. Butler Duncan is another smartly frocked young woman who favored shades of brown at the Piping Rock Show. The inevitable but always smart wool cardigan was slipped over a brown tweed skirt, somewhat lighter in tone, while a brown felt hat, wide brimmed and low heeled brown kid oxfords were included in the accompanying accessories.

Near Mrs. Duncan stood Mrs. C. E. Davison Jr. clad in a crimson

CARING FOR THE BABY

By Claire Morton

THE PERFECT BABY DOES NOT DROOL

TO say to some persons that a baby should not drool is like telling them that trees must not have leaves. Many mothers believe that drooling is as natural a part in the growth of the child as crying or laughing or teething. True, most babies do drool. But have you ever stopped to figure out why?

A baby drools when he sucks his thumb or finger.

Sometimes he acquires this habit by himself. Sometimes it is taught to him. In any case it is disgusting. He sucks his thumb and covers it with saliva. Saliva slides down the sides of his mouth, covering his chin. His hands come in contact with the floor or chair or bed. Dust and soil fall and cling to the sticky saliva on his fingers. Soon he puts the thumb or finger back into his mouth. What is the use of sterilizing bottles and making sure of the quality of his milk if you allow the germs laden dust that clings to his fingers to enter his mouth? Then there is another thing—Thumb-sucking spoils the shape of a baby's mouth.

A baby drools when he sucks a pacifier.

Pacifiers also ruin the shape of a child's mouth. They spoil the natural arch. They cause protrusion of the upper jaw. More than that, pacifiers fall to the floor and are picked up and touched by other people's hands. The dust and dirt that collects to their sticky surfaces is even more likely to be laden with disease germs than a child's fingers. Moreover, a pacifier is an ugly thing sticking out of a baby's pretty mouth, covering it, causing saliva to flow.

Of course, a baby doesn't cry when he has a pacifier in his mouth. But he doesn't laugh and grow, either. He has no inducement to try out the power of his lungs and the marvelous possibilities of his voice box. A child whose mouth is continually closed by pacifier is not so likely to attempt to talk as soon as one who is free to use his voice.

A baby drools when he bites a teething ring. Teething rings are

THE PERFECT GIFT.

ONE of my friends and I recently had an argument and we would appreciate your opinion on the matter. A friend of mine went to his home to spend his vacation. When he returned he brought me a very pretty little week-end case fitted with the "neocastles." To me this gift seems very useful and appropriate, but my friend says that I should not have accepted the gift because of the value. Please, settle this hateful argument.

READER.

I feel like a disagreeable, fussy Mrs. Grundy to say that I agree with your friend, that you should not have accepted this gift. But I do agree with her. It isn't the fact that the gift is valuable that makes the difference but that it is too "consequential," far out of the category that Mrs. Grundy has suggested as "proper gifts for him to give her." You see, the world has been a long time with this problem of these "correct and proper" present suggestions, and tradition and custom has established the wisdom of a man's giving, as gifts to a woman to whom he is not engaged, the charming but good taste presents such as books, candy, flowers, music, letter paper. Now they may seem too small and inconsequential to you, but at least they are safe and always in good taste. And now I am sure that you consider me a fussy Mrs. Grundy!

THE GARDEN IN THE FALL

(National Garden Bureau)

PLANT TULIPS IN SUN OR SHADE.

TULIPS are most accommodating plants, as they do equally well planted in sun or shade. There is some advantage to planting the late varieties in the shade, as the color is better and does not fade as it often does in full sun. The bloom will be a little later than in full sun but it will last several days longer. An ideal situation is one where the bulbs have morning sun for a little while and are in the shade for the rest of the day.

The delicate pinks and lavender shades are best in shady situations where the full beauty and delicacy of their coloring is best displayed. It bleaches to considerable extent in full exposure to the sun all day. There are many beautiful tulips in the delicate color tones. One of the finest of these is John Ruskin in rose and cream. In pale lilac and yellow is Faerie Queen and in fawn pink is the Fawn. The three planted together make a beautiful group in pastel shades.

The lighter-hued tulips make the best display in the garden, as the color carries farther than the rich, dark shades, which are finer for close inspection. In the dark tulips, Zulu, Velvet King and Faust are particularly fine. William Pitt is one of the finest of the deep reds.

In pinks, Clara Butt and Flamingo are two of the fine ones. Clara Butt is one of the latest of the Darwin class to bloom and this fact should be taken account of in arranging color schemes. There is a variation of a week in the season of bloom between the early and the late varieties in full sun and more than that in the shade where they develop more slowly.

Tulip bulbs may be planted as long as the ground can be worked, even as late as Thanksgiving, giving excellent results. Sometimes it is necessary to break the frozen crust of the soil with a pickaxe to put in the bulbs in an unseasonable fall, but the bulbs don't seem to mind in the least and give their full quota of bloom the following spring.

The one cultural requisite is drainage. Tulips stand almost anything but soggy quarters and if water stands on the bed during winter thaws there is likely to be a loss of bulbs from rotting. The best cultural methods call for a raised bed to be certain of drainage but in ordinarily well-drained soil it is not necessary.

Every night, before going to bed, massage your face and throat with a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap. Use your two hands. The palm and olive oils, delicately blended in the rich lather, act as a lubricant to the fine texture of the skin. They remove the dead skin, that important and essential renewed secondary layer. They penetrate tiny pores that otherwise are apt to clog with dirt, making up, oil secretions. They prevent blackheads and skin afflictions.

After the soap massage, rinse with warm water graduated to cold. Dry with a soft towel by patting, not rubbing. Then (and then only) are you ready for make-up.

Who would not protect a priceless complexion thus easily, when Palmolive Soap is obtainable at only 10c a cake everywhere?
